B52s Blast Red Sites In South Viet

200 Of Viet Cong Killed In Assault On Mekong Delta

SAIGON (AP) — American B52 bombers pounded enemy positions up and down South Vietnam in five missions today after killing 200 Viet Cong soldiers in a rare strike in the Mekong Delta, the U.S. Command said.

The B52s, which fly too high to be seen or heard from the ground, dropped tons of explosives Friday on enemy troop concentrations, weapons positions and a storage area in Vinh Binh Province, 74 miles southwest of Saigon, military spokesmen said.

South Vietnamese troops reported finding 200 Viet Cong bodies when they swept through the area four hours after the eight-engine Stratofortresses struck.

If their count is correct, it is the largest number of enemy troops ever reported killed in a single B52 mission in the nearly three years the giant bombers have been supporting allied forces in South Vietnam.

So far in the war, the Stratofortresses have flown perhaps only a dozen or so missions in the delta.

The other raids today were against enemy buildup areas west of Kontum City in the central highlands near the Cambodian border, near Khe Sanh and southwest of Hue.

The toll from the raid over Vinh Binh Province, 74 miles southwest of Saigon, was the biggest ever reported for a single mission of the eight-engine Stratofortresses in their nearly three years' service in Vietnam.

But many B52 raids are not followed up by allied ground sweeps. The B52s have concentrated on enemy strongholds in the central highlands and the northern border area.

The U.S. Command said Friday's raid was against troop concentrations, weapons positions and a storage area, but did not say how many B52s were in the mission or what tonnage of explosives they dropped. It is generally known that a B52 mission includes from 3 to 12 of the bombers, each capable of carrying 50,000 pounds of bombs.

Following up the raid, the South Vietnamese troops said they fought with a Viet Cong force of unknown size, killing 12, taking five prisoners and destroying an enemy radio station. Government losses were report-

TOKYO (AP) — The North Vietnam Foreign Ministry accused the United States Sunday of "deliberately delaying" preliminary peace talks on Vietnam and demanded that Washington stop creating what it termed unfavorable conditions for the talks.

TOKYO (AP) — North Vietnam accused the United States today of resorting to "ill-founded pretexts to shun or postpone contacts" for peace talks.

"It is quite clear that the U.S. still shows no sign of goodwill," said Hanoi's official newspaper Nhan Dan.

The paper issued similar charges on Friday.

Hanoi said the United States, while refusing sites for preliminary peace talks including Phnom Penh and Warsaw, had escalated its attacks against North Vietnamese targets.

The article, signed "commentator," said "after refusing to use Phnom Penh as a place for contacts between Representatives of the Democratic Republic of Vietnam and the U.S., the U.S. government has rejected the idea of choosing Warsaw as another venue."

Referring to U.S. presidential spokesman George Christian's statement Thursday that the U.S. government wanted contacts in a neutralist country, it said "It is common knowledge that Cambodia is a neutralist, peace-loving country."

U.S. officials also have disputed Hanoi's contention that Johnson is going back on his word in objecting to Warsaw and Phnom Penh as meeting locations.

They said neither Hanoi nor Washington has rejected the other's site proposals finally even though they have not reached agreement. They said they hope Hanoi still is sincerely interested in talks. They left open the possibility of an agreement on location within the next few days.

The United States contends the talks should be held at a place providing a neutral at-

FBI Continues To Press For Dr. King's Assassin

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — FBI agents have uncovered "very substantial" physical evidence as they work "around the clock pursuing every lead" in the search for Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.'s assassin, says Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark.

"The FBI is devoting every possible resource to this investigation," Clark said. "...While it remains impossible to predict when the killer will be arrested, I remain hopeful that it will be soon."

A Justice Department spokesman said the statement issued in Washington Friday night, Clark's first public pronouncement on the case in five days, was in response to newsmen's queries.

But Clark, like FBI officials, refused to answer newsmen's questions. "All I can say is no comment," said Robert Jensen, special agent in charge of the Memphis FBI office.

King was shot and killed by a sniper April 4 as he stood outside his motel room here.

The search for the assassin has spread hundreds of miles from Memphis, sources report, and involves thousands of investigators.

The scope of the investigation was evident Friday in both Memphis and Birmingham. Newsmen seeking to question persons who might have information about the case were told repeatedly: "The FBI has already been here."

At the Memphis rooming house from which the fatal shot was fired, Charles Q. Stevens said FBI agents had shown him two composite drawings of the suspected slayer—one a partial profile and the other a full face view.

Stevens said he could identify the partial view, but not the full face view. He said he saw the gunman flee after hearing a shot fired from a communal bathroom next door to his room. The bathroom window affords a clear view of the motel balcony where King was standing when shot.

And at a rooming house in Birmingham, residents said FBI agents had questioned them about Eric Starvo Galt, a white man named in an FBI bulletin issued, then withdrawn, in Florida Thursday night.

The message sent over the state police teletypewriter network in Florida asked help in locating Galt. It said Galt was driving a white Mustang.

Witnesses in Memphis told investigators earlier they saw a man in a white Mustang drive away from the rooming house. Records in Alabama show that a man named Galt bought a 1966 Mustang in August 1967.

JERUSALEM (AP) — A scorching desert sun blazed over the Holy Land today as thousands of Christian pilgrims crowded into this ancient city for Easter Sunday observances of the risen Christ.

Israeli troops were braced for possible trouble from Arab commandos but no incidents were reported, an army spokesman said.

Protestant Easter sunrise services were scheduled in and about this City of David followed by a Catholic pontifical high Mass at the hallowed Church of the Holy Sepulchre.

The Latin patriarch of Jerusalem, Msgr. Alberto Gori, will officiate at Sunday morning services held in front of the tomb of Jesus.

Three sailors and an oil rigger were the grooms.

"At first it was more of a joke than anything," said Yeoman Seaman Michael Ray Blakey, 20, of Indianapolis, Ind. "We're all good friends. The idea of one wedding just grew on us."

Blakey's bride was Laura Lynn, 18.

Her mother, a waitress, married the oil rigger, Miniford Arlius McCoy, 38, of Muleshoe, Tex.; Edna Carolyn, 16, married Navy Gunner's Mate Richard Stone, 23, of Tampa, Fla.; and Rachel Elaine, 19, married Seaman 3.C. Charles D. Haines, 21, of Stafford Springs, Conn.

The four couples, standing in a line across the front of tiny Bride's Choice Wedding Chapel, were married in a business-like, eight-minute ceremony performed by James P. Sandefur, an elder of the Primitive Baptist Church.

A background recorder played "I Love You Truly."

The wedding was the result of a series of courtships that started after the destroyer USS Maddox pulled into Long Beach harbor last June 8 from a Vietnam tour. Mrs. Smith and McCoy, both divorced, were dating when Haines asked Rachel out. Haines then arranged dates for his shipmates with Rachel's sisters.

Sandefur, who owns the Wedding Chapel, performed 17 other ceremonies earlier in the day. He said he was "a little shook" when the couples first approached him, "but after meeting the family, I concluded they were a pretty good match. They seem to be very much in love."

It was his first multiple marriage.

"If anyone knows of any reason why these two...er eight...," he said as he recited the traditional vow.

Man Robbed Of $4,500 In Beaver Falls

BEAVER FALLS — A 66-year old man was beaten and robbed of $4,500 in store receipts by two or three young men late Friday night as he was about to make a night deposit at the Mellon Bank here.

William Barnes of 5th Ave. was in "satisfactory" condition today at the Beaver Falls Unit of Providence Hospital with facial cuts and back injuries.

He was about to deposit a money bag when he was confronted by two or three men who squirted tear gas in his face, knocked him down, grabbed the bag and fled on foot. The receipts were from the Fisher Department Store of Rochester Township.

An attempt was made to take a money bag from Barnes last December by two masked men as he left the store. The bag was empty, then, however, police said.

Blakey's bride was Laura Lynn, 18.

Her mother, a waitress, married the oil rigger, Miniford Arlius McCoy, 38, of Muleshoe, Tex.; Edna Carolyn, 16, married Navy Gunner's Mate Richard Stone, 23, of Tampa, Fla.; and Rachel Elaine, 19, married Seaman 3.C. Charles D. Haines, 21, of Stafford Springs, Conn.

The four couples, standing in a line across the front of tiny Bride's Choice Wedding Chapel, were married in a business-like, eight-minute ceremony performed by James P. Sandefur, an elder of the Primitive Baptist Church.

A background recorder played "I Love You Truly."

The wedding was the result of a series of courtships that started after the destroyer USS Maddox pulled into Long Beach harbor last June 8 from a Vietnam tour. Mrs. Smith and McCoy, both divorced, were dating when Haines asked Rachel out. Haines then arranged dates for his shipmates with Rachel's sisters.

Sandefur, who owns the Wedding Chapel, performed 17 other ceremonies earlier in the day. He said he was "a little shook" when the couples first approached him, "but after meeting the family, I concluded they were a pretty good match. They seem to be very much in love."

It was his first multiple marriage.

"If anyone knows of any reason why these two. . .er eight. . .," he said as he recited the traditional vow.

Man Robbed Of $4,500 In Beaver Falls

BEAVER FALLS — A 66-year old man was beaten and robbed of $4,500 in store receipts by two or three young men late Friday night as he was about to make a night deposit at the Mellon Bank here.

William Barnes of 5th Ave. was in "satisfactory" condition today at the Beaver Falls Unit of Providence Hospital with facial cuts and back injuries.

He was about to deposit a money bag when he was confronted by two or three men who squirted tear gas in his face, knocked him down, grabbed the bag and fled on foot. The receipts were from the Fisher Department Store of Rochester Township.

An attempt was made to take a money bag from Barnes last December by two masked men as he left the store. The bag was empty, then, however, police said.

U.S. military spokesmen said the F111As flew two missions Friday, attacking truck parks and other targets 25 miles northwest of Dong Hoi and about 65 miles north of the demilitarized zone. Pilots reported one secondary explosion, indicating fuel or ammunition had been hit.

For the ninth straight day, all American air raids were reported confined to the area south of the 19th Parallel about 170 miles above the demilitarized zone. President Johnson has ordered the bombing curtailed in an effort to promote peace talks.

In the ground war, scattered clashes were reported in the two major allied ground operations —Pegasus, which broke the enemy siege of Khe Sanh in the northwest frontier area, and Complete Victory, in the 11 provinces around Saigon.

Units on Operation Pegasus, a 20,000-man sweep, reported killing 53 enemy troops in scattered skirmishes near Khe Sanh.

In the 100,000-man Operation Complete Victory, the war's biggest allied operation, helicopter gunships were reported to have killed 20 Viet Cong about 90 miles northwest of the capital.

Hanoi Radio, meanwhile, broadcast a Viet Cong announcement of a three-day cease-fire starting today in An Giang Province, 100 miles southwest of Saigon, to mark the Cambodian—or Khmer—new year. To Appear On 2 TV Tapes

McNamara Plays Modest Role In Kennedy's Drive

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, who has remained aloof from elective politics during seven years in Washington, is playing a modest role in the campaign of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Theodore Sorensen, a top Kennedy adviser, said Friday McNamara appears on two television tapes that will be used in Kennedy's drive to win the Democratic presidential nomination.

He refused to discuss the content of the tapes.

The Washington Post reported that on one McNamara and Sorensen reminisce about the Cuban missile crisis of 1962 when Kennedy, as attorney general, was one of those counseling his brother, President John F. Kennedy. Sorensen, then one of the president's closest aides, was another insider during the history-making confrontation with the Soviet Union over the missiles it was secretly supplying to Cuba.

McNamara left the Defense Department at the end of February to become president of the World Bank.

Before coming to Washington in 1961 to assume the top job at the Pentagon he was a registered Republican but was not active in politics.

Some of the senator's political aides say the likely winner in the May 7 Indiana primary is the state's favorite-son candidate, Gov. Roger D. Branigan. The third man in the three-way Democratic contest is Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota.

Kennedy was in West Virginia today for a motor tour of mining counties where his brother struck a lode of support in the 1960 West Virginia primary.

McCarthy is spending the weekend in Washington. He took a breather from campaigning on Good Friday, although he did chat for a few moments with newsmen in Boston.

He criticized the "quibbling" between the United States and North Vietnam about the site of preliminary peace talks as "pretty silly."

McCarthy also said he is unconvinced that the administration would be willing to deal directly with the National Liberation Front, political arm of the Viet Cong, or accept a coalition in South Vietnam to end the war.

"The mood of the country has changed," he said, "but White House policy, I'm afraid, hasn't changed that much."

The contest for the nomination is expected to become a three-way affair next week with the entrance of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

The vice president, who is grabbing a quickie vacation in Miami Beach, fended off newsmen's questions about his presidential ambitions Friday by saying he'll clear the air "very shortly."

Strict Curfew Disrupted By Sniper Fire

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Scattered sniper fire disrupted a strict curfew Friday night as Kansas City's racial unrest tapered off after three nights of violence in which six Negroes were shot to death.

Police said there were 133 arrests Friday night, most of which were for violation of the curfew.

One died Tuesday night, five Wednesday night. Nearly 100 other persons were wounded or injured. Hundreds have been left homeless by fires of incendiary origin. Preliminary estimates placed damage at $500,000.

Friday night's curfew was the fourth since the disorders broke out Tuesday. Police and National Guardsmen reported a relatively peaceful night. Six Negroes were arrested for investigation of sniping. Gunshots were reported at five locations, two on the West Side and three in the Negro East Side. Two arrests uncovered a cache of weapons.

The dusk-to-dawn curfews are enforced by approximately 460 police, 75 highway patrolmen and 1,000 guardsmen.

Eight young Negro leaders met twice with Mayor Ilus Davis and members of the City Council.

The youths demanded the Police Chief Clarence M. Kelley be fired, and that Negroes receive the same treatment as whites when under arrest.

Kelley has been criticized for defending use of tear gas to break up a student demonstration, which touched off the disorders. Police have said the high school students threw bricks and bottles at them.

He criticized the "quibbling" between the United States and North Vietnam about the site of preliminary peace talks as "pretty silly."

McCarthy also said he is unconvinced that the administration would be willing to deal directly with the National Liberation Front, political arm of the Viet Cong, or accept a coalition in South Vietnam to end the war.

"The mood of the country has changed," he said, "but White House policy, I'm afraid, hasn't changed that much."

The contest for the nomination is expected to become a three-way affair next week with the entrance of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

The vice president, who is grabbing a quickie vacation in Miami Beach, fended off newsmen's questions about his presidential ambitions Friday by saying he'll clear the air "very shortly."

Strict Curfew Disrupted By Sniper Fire

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Scattered sniper fire disrupted a strict curfew Friday night as Kansas City's racial unrest tapered off after three nights of violence in which six Negroes were shot to death.

Police said there were 133 arrests Friday night, most of which were for violation of the curfew.

One died Tuesday night, five Wednesday night. Nearly 100 other persons were wounded or injured. Hundreds have been left homeless by fires of incendiary origin. Preliminary estimates placed damage at $500,000.

Friday night's curfew was the fourth since the disorders broke out Tuesday. Police and National Guardsmen reported a relatively peaceful night. Six Negroes were arrested for investigation of sniping. Gunshots were reported at five locations, two on the West Side and three in the Negro East Side. Two arrests uncovered a cache of weapons.

The dusk-to-dawn curfews are enforced by approximately 460 police, 75 highway patrolmen and 1,000 guardsmen.

Eight young Negro leaders met twice with Mayor Ilus Davis and members of the City Council.

The youths demanded the Police Chief Clarence M. Kelley be fired, and that Negroes receive the same treatment as whites when under arrest.

Kelley has been criticized for defending use of tear gas to break up a student demonstration, which touched off the disorders. Police have said the high school students threw bricks and bottles at them.

Washington Mayor Asks Troop Pullout

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's capital has passed its first night in a week without a curfew and the mayor has asked President Johnson to authorize the orderly withdrawal of some 14,000 troops from the city.

Mayor Walter E. Washington told the President in a letter Friday he has been advised by military and city officials that "order has now been restored in the District of Columbia."

The troops moved into the capital April 5, the second of three nights of violence in Negro sections following the April 4 assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King in Memphis, Tenn.

Mayor Washington lifted the curfew completely beginning Friday night but retained some restrictions, such as a ban on gun sales and the sale of gasoline in containers.

3 More Killed In Ohio Traffic

By The Associated Press

Ohio's weekend traffic fatality count, despite heavier than usual Easter weekend travel, got off to an encouraging start Friday night and this morning, with only one death reported during the early hours.

The dead:

Gary W. Cullison, 19, Roseville.

Cullison was a passenger in a car that crashed off Ohio 555 six miles south of Zanesville Friday night. The driver, John Foster, 22, Spencer, W. Va., was injured.

Killed before 6 p.m. Friday; and not included in the weekend count:

Ezra Beal, 71, Delaware.

Karen Alexander, 7, South Zanesville.

The Alexander girl was killed Friday when she ran into the path of a car just outside the South Zanesville city limits.

Spirit Of Easter Fails To Prevail In Hit-Run Case

The true Easter spirit failed to prevail in a hit-and-run incident Friday at 8 p.m. on Route 2 near the Congo Rd.

As a result, Hancock County deputies are looking for a light-colored car which was involved in the two - car collision.

George C. Baker of Box 132, New Cumberland, reported to the sheriff's office that he had slowed to make a left turn onto the Congo Rd. when his car was struck by another vehicle.

The unidentified driver stopped, got out of his car and agreed to pay for any damage and told Baker to report the accident to the sheriff's office. Baker went to a phone, but when he returned the other driver was gone.

Vera Baker, wife of the driver, suffered neck injuries but said she would see her family doctor.

An Active Protest

CANNOCK, England (AP) — The Rev. H. L. Townshend, vicar of Cannock and rural dean of Rugeley, tore up his British passport before a 200-strong congregation at a Sunday evening service in protest against the new law stopping free immigration of Asians from Kenya. Normally, said the vicar, he did not preach political sermons but in this instance he felt there was a plain moral issue: Britian had broken her word.

Washington Mayor Asks Troop Pullout

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's capital has passed its first night in a week without a curfew and the mayor has asked President Johnson to authorize the orderly withdrawal of some 14,000 troops from the city.

Mayor Walter E. Washington told the President in a letter Friday he has been advised by military and city officials that "order has now been restored in the District of Columbia."

The troops moved into the capital April 5, the second of three nights of violence in Negro sections following the April 4 assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King in Memphis, Tenn.

Mayor Washington lifted the curfew completely beginning Friday night but retained some restrictions, such as a ban on gun sales and the sale of gasoline in containers.

4 Cars Involved In Mishaps Here

Two accidents here Friday afternoon resulted in minor damage to the four autos involved, police report.

Robert J. Queen, 52, of 1048 Bradshaw Ave., backed his 1968 sedan into a parked 1960 auto owned by Ernest G. Bates of 618 Garner Ave. about 4:20 p.m. The mishap occurred on W. 5th St., a few feet west of Market St.

About 4:51, William R. Oliver, 18, of 864 Oak St., driving a 1966 van - type truck, pulled from a curb near E. 5th St. and Broadway and struck the right rear of a parked car.

Oliver told police he attempted to locate the owner of the auto, but when he returned to the scene the car was gone. The right side of Oliver's truck was creased, he told officers.

He was not cited.

3 More Killed In Ohio Traffic

By The Associated Press

Ohio's weekend traffic fatality count, despite heavier than usual Easter weekend travel, got off to an encouraging start Friday night and this morning, with only one death reported during the early hours.

The dead:

Gary W. Cullison, 19, Roseville.

Cullison was a passenger in a car that crashed off Ohio 555 six miles south of Zanesville Friday night. The driver, John Foster, 22, Spencer, W. Va., was injured.

Killed before 6 p.m. Friday; and not included in the weekend count:

Ezra Beal, 71, Delaware.

Karen Alexander, 7, South Zanesville.

Beal was killed Friday when his car and a tractor-trailer collided on U.S. 23 just north of Delaware.

The Alexander girl was killed Friday when she ran into the path of a car just outside the South Zanesville city limits.

Spirit Of Easter Fails To Prevail In Hit-Run Case

The true Easter spirit failed to prevail in a hit-and-run incident Friday at 8 p.m. on Route 2 near the Congo Rd.

As a result, Hancock County deputies are looking for a light-colored car which was involved in the two - car collision.

George C. Baker of Box 132, New Cumberland, reported to the sheriff's office that he had slowed to make a left turn onto the Congo Rd. when his car was struck by another vehicle.

The unidentified driver stopped, got out of his car and agreed to pay for any damage and told Baker to report the accident to the sheriff's office. Baker went to a phone, but when he returned the other driver was gone.

Vera Baker, wife of the driver, suffered neck injuries but said she would see her family doctor.

The Message Of Easter

Easter 1968 comes in the midst of racial strife, insecurity of war and all the burdens of a modern world.

With powder-keg tension invading every phase of 20th century life, what is there about Easter Sunday that is so special?

The excitement that ripples across Christendom and explodes in a joyful "Hallelujah!" is a strangely complex mixture of emotion and, at the same time, a simple message of love — easily overlooked the rest of the year.

Once again, the hope of rebirth, reawakening and reaffirmation comes to lives that otherwise might seem futile.

Easter brings to the world a reminder of a promise that has echoed across the centuries. A promise that has given comfort to man and meaning to his life. A promise that does not diminish through the ages regardless of how often it is ignored or forgotten. A promise that is much misunderstood.

The promise was made by Jesus Christ, sealed on the cross and fulfilled in the ressurection.

It is not a promise of an easy life free of cares, free of difficult decisions, isolated from suffering.

Rather it is a pledge that individual man has at his disposal the means to withstand the collective problems confronting him and to be more than a programmed computer taking part in a life-death cycle.

Back when the "God Is Dead" discussion was seeing the light of day, it seemed the promise had been placed in a Good Friday tomb of unconcern and the entranceway blocked with a great stone of moral and spiritual irresponsibility.

Easter 1968 symbolizes the opening of that modern tomb to free the spirit of compassion and commitment.

The voice of Easter will whisper varying messages in the ears of believers and non-believers.

Some will be filled with understanding as was 19th century Scottish cleric, George Macdonald, when he penned these words: "Christ died to save us, not from suffering but from ourselves; not from injustice, far less from justice, but from being unjust."

Let's Quit Fencing

The talks haven't started yet but the feinting has.

Contact has been made and messages exchanged on a formal basis between the United States and North Vietnam, but more than a week has passed and so far the two sides have been unable to decide on a mutually agreeable site to hold the talks.

North Vietnam's initial suggestion of Cambodia failed to win the approval of President Johnson's advisers despite the fact that he had said repeatedly that the United States was willing to go anywhere in the world and at any time for serious talks.

The North Vietnamese, in feigning surprise at the rejection of Cambodia, adroitly referred to the President's statement, immediately placing him in a bad light.

Then, lest they seem to be acquiescing even in a small way, the Reds summarily brushed off the American proposal of Geneva as the site. Certainly no place on earth can boast a longer history of useful neutrality and service to nations and groups of nations at odds with one another than the Swiss capital.

Paris and Moscow have been mentioned but it looks now as though it will be Warsaw.

Poland is a Communist nation and North Vietnam can use this propagandawise, if it wishes, as a small victory, a first-round win in the skirmishing which will go on to escape any semblance of loss of face.

And the United States won't have seemed too eager to get talking, since it didn't jump at the first suggestion — Cambodia.

With the diplomatic facesaving fencing out of the way, the talkers can start talking about peace. And since that will involve even more maneuvering, energized by sometimes questionable motivation — it's time to get cracking.

A Murder 'Situation'?

Commutation of the death penalty of Charles Copestick, onetime city pottery employe, for the murder of his estranged wife almost two years ago, is the sixth such action by Gov. James Rhodes since he had held office.

Changing the penalty to life imprisonment was an acceptable and unchallenged right of the Governor, part of the judicial process of the State of Ohio.

Some issue might well be taken, however, with the reported comments of John M. McElroy, top aide to the Governor, concerning the Copestick case as published in a Cleveland newspaper.

Columbiana County Probate Judge Louis Tobin has criticized the statement attributed to McElroy that the slayer "before the murder. . . never displayed any aggression and spent the day of the murder with the woman trying for a reconciliation. The murder was a situation instead of premeditation."

Judge Tobin declares, "This constitutes an insult to our entire judicial process and to Judge Raymond Buzzard, a very fine Common Pleas Court Judge, the Seventh District Court of Appeals and the Supreme Court of Ohio."

"I do not understand," Judge Tobin states, "how Mr. McElroy or six laymen on the Board of Pardon and Paroles are qualified to make such a statement in view of the entire judicial process which found this man guilty of premeditated murder. I do not understand how they can ignore the fact he purchased a revolver the day before the murder and pumped five bullets into the face and body of his wife."

Abolishment of capital punishment is a growing policy across the U.S., and is an issue which has stirred and will continue to stir debate on moral and legal grounds in years to come.

Commutation of death penalties is another aspect, only partially related in this case since Gov. Rhodes has not revealed his personal attitude toward capital punishment.

There are those who believe the full extent of punishment, as designated by the jury in its verdict without recommendation for mercy, was deserved by Copestick.

But the Governor's decision has changed that —and in proper course.

However, it doesn't benefit the cause of justice nor the case for ending capital punishment to suggest that Copestick was innocent of the charge on which he was found guilty in the Lisbon Courthouse and in every court through which he passed.

Handy To Pills

District drug stores are part of a national reading trend which has placed magazines and paperback books as the fourth ranking profitmaker for the retail pharmacies, based on selling space.

Tobacco ranks first, bringing in $134.99 cents a square foot of space. Prescriptions provide $134.66. The longtime drug store staples—ice cream and soft drinks — net $82.60.

It is appropriate that the neighborhood book shelf, replete with reading and photographic material based on murder, mayhem, super-sex, sadism and odd human frailities, is handy to the tranquilizers and headache pills.

Terrorism In The Mid-East

Reports from the Middle East make it appear Israel is heeding the advice of the United States and slowing the mementum building toward another direct Arab-Israeli confrontation.

The issue is over Arab terrorist activities.

Israel's reaction has been swift and forceful punishment of Arab terrorist bands. The result of Israeli retaliation policies has been large-scale fighting in Jordanian territory where fleeing Arab bands were overtaken.

Last month's Israeli attack on the Jordanian town of Karameh, in reprisal for Arab terrorist action, spurred the United States to urge Israel to scale down its efforts in order to head off another major outbreak of fighting.

The Israeli government will not tolerate Arab terrorism but Maj. Gen. Chaim Bar Lev, Israel's chief of staff, has hinted his country will handle the situation through counter-terrorism.

The United States would like to see a Middle East settlement worked out through the United Nations, and it appears the pathway to peace lies through the United Nations, although the prospect is dim at present.

Neither the Israelis nor Arabs will agree to a United Nations observer team patrolling the cease-fire line even though each has filed charges with the U.N. Security Council charging the other with breaking the truce agreement.

The special U.N. envoy to the Middle East nations, Dr. Gunnar Jarring, has had little success in mediating the problem.

The United States is hoping a more subtle approach to the terrorism problem by Israel will keep tension at a minimum and provide an atmosphere persuasive to settlement talks proposed by Dr. Jarring.

If Israel fights terrorism with terrorism, there still will be a useless loss of life but U.S. officials apparently are resigned to the fact there will be more blood spilled in the Middle East and they hope it can be held to a minimum while the U.N. exercises its influence toward the hoped-for peace.

Timely Quotes

No civilized society can long permit the operation within it of an underworld organization as powerful and as immune from legal accountability as La Cosa Nostra. VICTOR RIESEL

RFK Needs Labor's Support

NEW YORK — The boos had it when Bob Kennedy's name was mentioned. That's all it took. Just the mention of the Senator's name signed to a simple telegram of good wishes.

Victor Riesel

It was a middle-aged crowd far from the roaring throngs of young people who have roared and pushed and ripped the cuff links from the challenger.

The booing filled the N.Y. Hilton's Grand Ballroom Saturday night, April 6. It ricocheted off the psychedelic wall decorations and drowned out the computerized music which for some hours had put the 1,200 diners in good mood.

They had come to honor Harry Van Arsdale, one of the land's most influential labor leaders, who wears many hats, including that of the presidency of the million-member New York City Central Labor Council.

In the banquet hall were powerful union chiefs — presidents of unions with membership totaling millions, such as the Seafarers, the National Maritime Union, the men's clothing workers, the electrical brotherhood and the Teamsters, all of which have high-geared, precinct by precinct political machinery in scores of major cities.

TO WIN ANYTHING, Senator Robert F. Kennedy needs these men and their political equipment, money and manpower as much as he needs his name, charisma, and the cheers of the new youth.

He knew he did not have them lined up. But he did not know that he had lost them so utterly and completely.

It was perhaps the wrong place to boo. On the dais were national and international industrial, civic and spiritual leaders, as well as powerful labor chiefs. Among them was the newly installed Archbishop of N.Y., the Most Rev. Terence J. Cooke. But the booing rolled on.

A few seconds later the room went up in cheers as Mr. Labor Mediator himself, Theodore Kheel, head of the host organization, the American Foundation on Automation and Employment, Inc., read a wire from Vice President Hubert Humphrey. The jammed packed hall virtually broke out into a tribal yell filled with warmth and affection.

There no longer can be any doubt of labor's position in the three-cornered race for the Democratic presidential nomination. True, AFL-CIO president George Meany had urged Mr. Humphrey to run. Meany's a general, and his peers could be expected to be with him against the junior senator from New York.

But there were hundreds of rank and filers from labor's second, third and fourth echelons of vice presidents, business agents and office staffs in the mammoth dining room.

These rank and filers did not know then that just a few days earlier Mr. Meany had dispatched telegrams to the AFL-CIO's national and international union presidents, not only telling them of the Federation's position but slapping hard at Robert Kennedy.

"WE ARE CONVINCED the American people would have supported him (Lyndon Johnson), despite the unfair, unremitting, unconscionable personal attacks upon him. No man — and certainly no President — should have been subjected to such a torrent of abuse from the press and from other politicians — including some in his own party upon whom he was entitled to rely for support, but who instead have cultivated and exploited division and disunity for their personal political advantage.

"The American people must not be left with a choice only among candidates who themselves have symbolized the discord and disunity the President's action sought to eliminate."

The leaders of labor had this telegram but the rank and filers had only their own instinctive political sentiments.

Bob Kennedy is well aware of labor's antagonism. He knows too that even his good friend Walter Reuther — behind the closed doors of the United Auto Workers executive board room — counted political noses three weeks ago and came up with a 60-40 count for President Johnson. Some say it was 2 to 1, and that this presidential strength will swing to the auto workers' good friend, Hubert Humphrey.

So in characteristic Kennedy fashion, Bob has started the counterattack. On Wednesday, April 3, he telephoned George Meany and suggested they talk face to face, alone.

THEY MET in Mr. Meany's office in Washington at 9:30 the next morning. They talked bluntly, frankly and in hard political terms. It was a chilly political morning for Sen. Kennedy. Meany — Mr. Labor — was "frosty" indeed.

Mr. Meany has a way of turning one off. But Bob Kennedy continued to hammer away though the campaign has taken a grim holiday.

He has attempted to reach other national labor leaders. Some have taken his call. Some haven't. It is not like 1960 when Arthur Goldberg was the Kennedys' ambassador to the unfriendly labor movement and arranged breakfast sessions with union chiefs for the late Jack Kennedy at the Hotel Carlyle.

But now Mr. Goldberg is a real ambassador, above partisan politics, though he does see Bob Kennedy from time to time.

This time Bob Kennedy will have to be his own ambassador. He knows — since his close colleague and strategist, New York State Democratic Chairman John Burns, was there before leaving to meet Pierre Salinger at Toots Shor's — that many left the Hotel Hilton banquet saying that the hostile reaction was an instant poll. Humphrey, yes, Kennedy, no.

Riots Planned?

Police from one end of the country to the other are baffled by the riots that have swept more than 100 cities; and towns during the last few days. Arson, vandalism and looting have occurred in so many parts of a city simultaneously that previous planning seems to have been involved.

Though government authorities say they have no "evidence" of a conspiracy, law-enforcement agencies concede that nothing like the orgy of crime and destruction which has emerged in the past week has ever been witnessed in America.

In some respects it resembles guerilla warfare. The formula has been to provoke disorders in one section of a city and then, when police and firemen move in, promptly loot and set fires with gasoline bombs in another section. The originators of the arson have thus been able to escape.

Although more than 40 people were killed and many thousands were injured during the disturbances, the nation as a whole has not come to grips thus far with the methods of the rioters. Gangs of teen-agers seem to have been formed and taught exactly how to start the riots..

WHILE THE assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. supposedly triggered a number of uprisings, it is recalled that for several weeks there have been predictions of riots and disorders.

The assumption now is that the arsonists were ready to start the fires at any time an occasion arose which they could use as an excuse for their action.

What most Americans, both Negro and white, are puzzled about is the renewal of disturbances in places which were thought to have been quieted down. On Tuesday of this week, arsonists set more than 100 fires to homes and stores in the very same Negro district in Newark, N.J., where the riots occurred last summer.

Hundreds were again left homeless and stores were looted. The mayor said that "most of the fire were well planned and well organized" by arsonists.

Among those killed, the Negroes far outnumber the whites. Whether the purpose of it all is to inflame the entire Negro population or whether it is to break down authority generally is a mystery to the police.

There is no question but that the riots have saddend the Negro population as much as the white and that it is a small minority which is responsible for the disturbances.

SOME EXPERTS in guerrilla warfare claim the Communists have always adopted a similar technique in smaller counties. Nobody in the Department of Justice or in the local police departments, however, has come forth with any charge that there has been foreign intrusion.

The disturbances on many of the college campuses have been regarded as "spontaneous." But it is well known that some students have been subverted by Communist agents and aroused to take rebellious action.

It requires a certain amount of planning to bring about the riots and to set the fires which have caused tens of millions of dollars of damage in the past week. Yet few arrests have been based on a charge of conspiracy.

People generally are beginning to suspect that sooner or later facts will become available to confirm that 110 cities in the United States would never have been victimized by arsonists and looters if there had been no concerted effort in certain areas.

Violence can be stimulaed by inflammatory speeches. While federal authorities say they have no evidence of a connection between speeches that have threatened disorder and the subsequent disturbances, more and more people are beginning to believe that some agents of subversion have been busily engaged in supplying guns and giving instructions on how to make and use "Molotov cocktails."

Various "marches" and "demonstrations" have been scheduled and announced for the spring and summer of 1968. A series of disorders far more sensational than any witnessed last year is still expected.

Both federal and state troops have been mobilized in large numbers. The realistic fact is that instigators of riots are not being detected or apprehended.

Congress is being stampeeded into passing legislation to provide more civil-rights "reforms," but the Negro leaders themselves seem unable to cope with the virtual insurrection which has left its mark on almost every section of the country.

The North Vietnamese, in feigning surprise at the rejection of Cambodia, adroitly referred to the President's statement, immediately placing him in a bad light.

Then, lest they seem to be acquiescing even in a small way, the Reds summarily brushed off the American proposal of Geneva as the site. Certainly no place on earth can boast a longer history of useful neutrality and service to nations and groups of nations at odds with one another than the Swiss capital.

Paris and Moscow have been mentioned but it looks now as though it will be Warsaw.

Poland is a Communist nation and North Vietnam can use this propagandawise, if it wishes, as a small victory, a first-round win in the skirmishing which will go on to escape any semblance of loss of face.

And the United States won't have seemed too eager to get talking, since it didn't jump at the first suggestion — Cambodia.

With the diplomatic facesaving fencing out of the way, the talkers can start talking about peace. And since that will involve even more maneuvering, energized by sometimes questionable motivation — it's time to get cracking.

A Murder 'Situation'?

Commutation of the death penalty of Charles Copestick, onetime city pottery employe, for the murder of his estranged wife almost two years ago, is the sixth such action by Gov. James Rhodes since he had held office.

Changing the penalty to life imprisonment was an acceptable and unchallenged right of the Governor, part of the judicial process of the State of Ohio.

Some issue might well be taken, however, with the reported comments of John M. McElroy, top aide to the Governor, concerning the Copestick case as published in a Cleveland newspaper.

Columbiana County Probate Judge Louis Tobin has criticized the statement attributed to McElroy that the slayer "before the murder. . . never displayed any aggression and spent the day of the murder with the woman trying for a reconciliation. The murder was a situation instead of premeditation."

Judge Tobin declares, "This constitutes an insult to our entire judicial process and to Judge Raymond Buzzard, a very fine Common Pleas Court Judge, the Seventh District Court of Appeals and the Supreme Court of Ohio."

"I do not understand," Judge Tobin states, "how Mr. McElroy or six laymen on the Board of Pardon and Paroles are qualified to make such a statement in view of the entire judicial process which found this man guilty of premeditated murder. I do not understand how they can ignore the fact he purchased a revolver the day before the murder and pumped five bullets into the face and body of his wife."

Abolishment of capital punishment is a growing policy across the U.S., and is an issue which has stirred and will continue to stir debate on moral and legal grounds in years to come.

Commutation of death penalties is another aspect, only partially related in this case since Gov. Rhodes has not revealed his personal attitude toward capital punishment.

There are those who believe the full extent of punishment, as designated by the jury in its verdict without recommendation for mercy, was deserved by Copestick.

But the Governor's decision has changed that —and in proper course.

However, it doesn't benefit the cause of justice nor the case for ending capital punishment to suggest that Copestick was innocent of the charge on which he was found guilty in the Lisbon Courthouse and in every court through which he passed.

Handy To Pills

District drug stores are part of a national reading trend which has placed magazines and paperback books as the fourth ranking profit-maker for the retail pharmacies, based on selling space.

Tobacco ranks first, bringing in $134.99 cents a square foot of space. Prescriptions provide $134.96. The longtime drug store staples—ice cream and soft drinks — net $82.60.

It is appropriate that the neighborhood book shelf, replete with reading and photographic material based on murder, mayhem, super-sex, sadism and odd human frailities, is handy to the tranquilizers and headache pills.

Terrorism In The Mid-East

Reports from the Middle East make it appear Israel is heeding the advice of the United States and slowing the mementum building toward another direct Arab-Israeli confrontation.

The issue is over Arab terrorist activities.

Israel's reaction has been swift and forceful punishment of Arab terrorist bands. The result of Israeli retaliation policies has been large-scale fighting in Jordanian territory where fleeing Arab bands were overtaken.

Last month's Israeli attack on the Jordanian town of Karameh, in reprisal for Arab terrorist action, spurred the United States to urge Israel to scale down its efforts in order to head off another major outbreak of fighting.

The Israeli government will not tolerate Arab terrorism but Maj. Gen. Chaim Bar Lev, Israel's chief of staff, has hinted his country will handle the situation through counter-terrorism.

The United States would like to see a Middle East settlement worked out through the United Nations, and it appears the pathway to peace lies through the United Nations, although the prospect is dim at present.

Neither the Israelis nor Arabs will agree to a United Nations observer team patrolling the cease-fire line even though each has filed charges with the U.N. Security Council charging the other with breaking the truce agreement.

The special U.N. envoy to the Middle East nations, Dr. Gunnar Jarring, has had little success in mediating the problem.

The United States is hoping a more subtle approach to the terrorism problem by Israel will keep tension at a minimum and provide an atmosphere persuasive to settlement talks proposed by Dr. Jarring.

If Israel fights terrorism with terrorism, there still will be a useless loss of life but U.S. officials apparently are resigned to the fact there will be more blood spilled in the Middle East and they hope it can be held to a minimum while the U.N. exercises its influence toward the hoped-for peace.

Timely Quotes

No civilized society can long permit the operation within it of an underworld organization as powerful and as immune from legal accountability as La Cosa Nostra. To hold the allegiance of the normally law - abiding, society must show each man that no man is above the law. The alternative is slow degeneration into anarchy.

—Prof. G. Robert Blakely of the University of Notre Dame Law School, on organized crime.

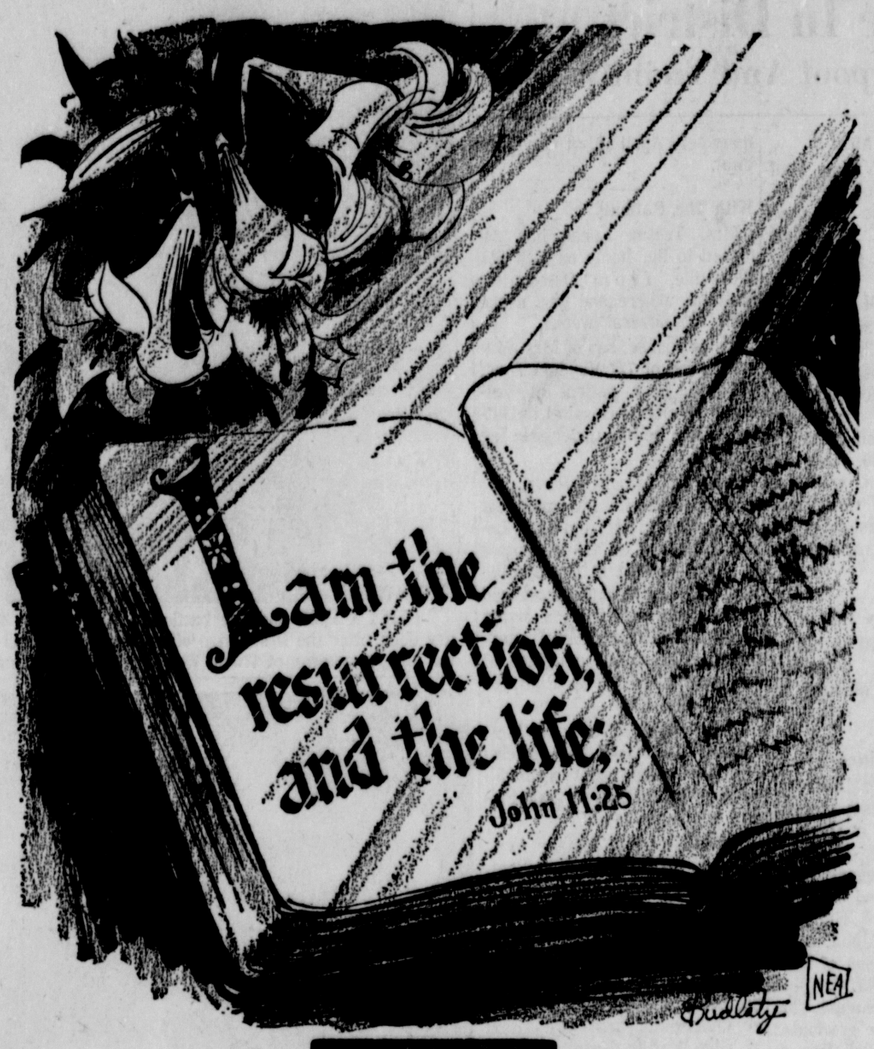

We must keep on open mind as to the possibility that among the wires and transistors of existing electronic computers, there already flickers the dim glimmering of the same kind of personal awareness as that which has become, for man, his most precious possession.

—Scientist-writer Dean E. Wooldridge.

RFK Needs Labor's Support

NEW YORK — The boos had it when Bob Kennedy's name was mentioned. That's all it took. Just the mention of the Senator's name signed to a simple telegram of good wishes.

Victor Riesel

It was a middle-aged crowd far from the roaring throngs of young people who have roared and pushed and ripped the cuff links from the challenger.

The booing filled the N.Y. Hilton's Grand Ballroom Saturday night, April 6. It ricocheted off the psychedelic wall decorations and drowned out the computerized music which for some hours had put the 1,200 diners in good mood.

They had come to honor Harry Van Arsdale, one of the land's most influential labor leaders, who wears many hats, including that of the presidency of the million-member New York City Central Labor Council.

In the banquet hall were powerful union chiefs — presidents of unions with membership totaling millions, such as the Seafarers, the National Maritime Union, the men's clothing workers, the electrical brotherhood and the Teamsters, all of which have high-geared, precinct by precinct political machinery in scores of major cities.

TO WIN ANYTHING, Senator Robert F. Kennedy needs these men and their political equipment, money and manpower as much as he needs his name, charisma, and the cheers of the new youth.

He knew he did not have them lined up. But he did not know that he had lost them so utterly and completely.

It was perhaps the wrong place to boo. On the dais were national and international industrial, civic and spiritual leaders, as well as powerful labor chiefs. Among them was the newly installed Archbishop of N.Y., the Most Rev. Terence J. Cooke. But the booing rolled on.

A few seconds later the room went up in cheers as Mr. Labor Mediator himself, Theodore Kheel, head of the host organization, the American Foundation on Automation and Employment, Inc., read a wire from Vice President Hubert Humphrey. The jammed packed hall virtually broke out into a tribal yell filled with warmth and affection.

There no longer can be any doubt of labor's position in the three-cornered race for the Democratic presidential nomination. True, AFL-CIO president George Meany had urged Mr. Humphrey to run. Meany's a general, and his peers could be expected to be with him against the junior senator from New York.

But there were hundreds of rank and filers from labor's second, third and fourth echelons of vice presidents, business agents and office staffs in the mammoth dining room.

These rank and filers did not know then that just a few days earlier Mr. Meany had dispatched telegrams to the AFL-CIO's national and international union presidents, not only telling them of the Federation's position but slapping hard at Robert Kennedy.

"WE ARE CONVINCED the American people would have supported him (Lyndon Johnson), despite the unfair, unremitting, unconscionable personal attacks upon him. No man — and certainly no President — should have been subjected to such a torrent of abuse from the press and from other politicians — including some in his own party upon whom he was entitled to rely for support, but who instead have cultivated and exploited division and disunity for their personal political advantage.

"The American people must not be left with a choice only among candidates who themselves have symbolized the discord and disunity the President's action sought to eliminate."

The leaders of labor had this telegram but the rank and filers had only their own instinctive political sentiments.

Bob Kennedy is well aware of labor's antagonism. He knows too that even his good friend Walter Reuther — behind the closed doors of the United Auto Workers executive board room — counted political noses three weeks ago and came up with a 60-40 count for President Johnson. Some say it was 2 to 1, and that this presidential strength will swing to the auto workers' good friend, Hubert Humphrey.

So in characteristic Kennedy fashion, Bob has started the counterattack. On Wednesday, April 3, he telephoned George Meany and suggested they talk face to face, alone.

THEY MET in Mr. Meany's office in Washington at 9:30 the next morning. They talked bluntly, frankly and in hard political terms. It was a chilly political morning for Sen. Kennedy. Meany — Mr. Labor — was "frosty" indeed.

Mr. Meany has a way of turning one off. But Bob Kennedy continued to hammer away though the campaign has taken a grim holiday.

He has attempted to reach other national labor leaders. Some have taken his call. Some haven't. It is not like 1960 when Arthur Goldberg was the Kennedys' ambassador to the unfriendly labor movement and arranged breakfast sessions with union chiefs for the late Jack Kennedy at the Hotel Carlyle.

But now Mr. Goldberg is a real ambassador, above partisan politics, though he does see Bob Kennedy from time to time.

This time Bob Kennedy will have to be his own ambassador. He knows — since his close colleague and strategist, New York State Democratic Chairman John Burns, was there before leaving to meet Pierre Salinger at Toots Shor's — that many left the Hotel Hilton banquet saying that the hostile reaction was an instant poll. Humphrey, yes, Kennedy, no.

Riots Planned?

Police from one end of the country to the other are baffled by the riots that have swept more than 100 cities; and towns during the last few days. Arson, vandalism and looting have occurred in so many parts of a city simultaneously that previous planning seems to have been involved.

Though government authorities say they have no "evidence" of a conspiracy, law-enforcement agencies concede that nothing like the orgy of crime and destruction which has emerged in the past week has ever been witnessed in America.

In some respects it resembles guerilla warfare. The formula has been to provoke disorders in one section of a city and then, when police and firemen move in, promptly loot and set fires with gasoline bombs in another section. The originators of the arson have thus been able to escape.

Although more than 40 people were killed and many thousands were injured during the disturbances, the nation as a whole has not come to grips thus far with the methods of the rioters. Gangs of teen-agers seem to have been formed and taught exactly how to start the riots.

WHILE THE assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. supposedly triggered a number of uprisings, it is recalled that for several weeks there have been predictions of riots and disorders.

The assumption now is that the arsonists were ready to start the fires at any time an occasion arose which they could use as an excuse for their action.

What most Americans, both Negro and white, are puzzled about is the renewal of disturbances in places which were thought to have been quieted down. On Tuesday of this week, arsonists set more than 100 fires to homes and stores in the very same Negro district in Newark, N.J., where the riots occurred last summer.

Hundreds were again left homeless and stores were looted. The mayor said that "most of the fire were well planned and well organized" by arsonists.

Among those killed, the Negroes far outnumber the whites. Whether the purpose of it all is to inflame the entire Negro population or whether it is to break down authority generally is a mystery to the police.

There is no question but that the riots have saddend the Negro population as much as the white and that it is a small minority which is responsible for the disturbances.

SOME EXPERTS in guerrilla warfare claim the Communists have always adopted a similar technique in smaller counties. Nobody in the Department of Justice or in the local police departments, however, has come forth with any charge that there has been foreign intrusion.

The disturbances on many of the college campuses have been regarded as "spontaneous." But it is well known that some students have been subverted by Communist agents and aroused to take rebellious action.

It requires a certain amount of planning to bring about the riots and to set the fires which have caused tens of millions of dollars of damage in the past week. Yet few arrests have been based on a charge of conspiracy.

People generally are beginning to suspect that sooner or later facts will become available to confirm that 110 cities in the United States would never have been victimized by arsonists and looters if there had been no concerted effort in certain areas.

Violence can be stimulaed by inflammatory speeches. While federal authorities say they have no evidence of a connection between speeches that have threatened disorder and the subsequent disturbances, more and more people are beginning to believe that some agents of subversion have been busily engaged in supplying guns and giving instructions on how to make and use "Molotov cocktails."

Various "marches" and "demonstrations" have been scheduled and announced for the spring and summer of 1968. A series of disorders far more sensational than any witnessed last year is still expected.

Both federal and state troops have been mobilized in large numbers. The realistic fact is that instigators of riots are not being detected or apprehended.

Congress is being stampeeded into passing legislation to provide more civil-rights "reforms," but the Negro leaders themselves seem unable to cope with the virtual insurrection which has left its mark on almost every section of the country.

Beat-The-Heat Fashions

SMOKE BROWN, a new color for summer, is counterpointed by bold white banding in the design (left) by Dauphine. The contour belt adds its own fashion dimension. Elinor Pommier at L'Aiglon pares down this clean-limbed design (right) to a brisk-as-a-breeze little shape. In a linenlike fabric, it features the return of the belt. Color is Puerto pink.

NEW YORK — When summer comes to the city, a girl has to choose fashions that will help her to keep her cool. And for the coming season there is a wide choice of togs to do just that.

Breezy little skimmers, swingy fit and flare styles and the popular dirndls are waiting to be grabbed off the peg to give you carefree, hot-weather comfort.

Sleeveless ness and spare shaping can take workday chores in stride. Loose, low belts keep pace with fashion but leave the waist unhampered.

Fabrics that don't wilt in the heat become more numerous each year. This time around we have airy voiles, sheer cottons and linenlike blends that know how to behave when the temperature soars into the 90s.

Then there are the psychological coolers — the dresses that look like frosty confections and make you feel cool just to slip into them.

Color plays a large role in this group — the new frosted pale browns and sherbet shades.

If you are one of the working crowd who must get through the summer in the steaming city, the fashion industry has outdone itself this time to keep you looking trim and pretty while you beat the heat.

Words Of Inspiration

By Rev. Howard W. Hill
1st Church Of Nazarene

I once read of a young minister, who was crossing a swollen river on a swimming horse.

In the midst of the raging, swirling waters, and with the horse wavering in uncertainty beneath him, the young preacher became dizzy and about to fall. A senior preacher, accustomed to such experiences, called out, "Lift up your eyes, look to that tree on the opposite side and never look away from it."

The tree was indifferent to the raging waters and the wavering steed. It stood anchored and steady, and to view it steadied the rider, so the shore was reached in safety.

Life is much like that. If we look at the swirling, raging times in which we live it will cause us to falter and fail. But if we look to the banks of the river of life we will see one who is not moved nor changed by our times.

We wouldn't question God's power, but sometimes we are prone to question his judgment.

Let us not forget, friend, we can trust God's silence as well as the times He chooses to make clear or explain to us His will in the circumstances of life.

Easter Vacation, Spring Weather Bring Campers

LISBON — The Easter vacation and warm weather combined to get the Guilford Lake camping area off to a good start this weekend.

Nelson Hively, state park manager, said there were approximately 25 trailers and camper units on the grounds Friday night. He expects more to arrive today.

The park's trailer and camping area located at the Clewell landing entrance off County Rd. 411 will accommodate 70 units. It was overcrowded several times last summer.

The Guilford Ruritan Club will sponsor an Easter sunrise service at 6 a. m. at the picnic pavilion on Rd. 411.

Hively announced that the park will hold "open house" from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. Sunday, April 21. Guilford Ruritan will serve pancakes and sausages at the Guilford Grange Hall and Lisbon Ruritans will act as tour guides.

The lake, lowered seven feet last fall to prevent ice damage to docks, is within two feet of its summer level, Hively said. He reports a brisk business in boat and motor licenses and dock and tieup permits. The state park office near the dam at the east end of the lake is open daily.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I clean discolored brick walls?

A.—Dissolve an ounce of glue in a gallon of hot water, add a piece of alum about the size of an egg, plus a half-pound of Venetian red, and a pound of Spanish brown. Work this solution on the brick surface with a stiff brush, and your bricks should emerge from the treatment as bright as when new.

Q. — How can I clean unwashable leather gloves?

A. — Try soaking a flannel cloth in milk, rubbing over a cake of soap, then rubbing the gloves vigorously with this. Many other such tips on the care and cleaning of gloves of all kinds are included in my household book.

Q. — What is the best way to iron embroidered materials?

A. — Iron with the embroidery face down on a turkish towel, pressing it on the wrong side. This brings out the depth of the pattern, instead of flattening it out. Use this same method also for braided trimmings.

Q. — How can I treat a white spot on my mohogany dresser top where I spilled cologne?

A. — The simplest treatment is to rub the spot with a cloth on which you have put cigar ashes and butter. If this is not effectve, substitute rottenstone for the ashes. For more stubborn spots, use a few drops of spirits of ammonia, spirits of camphor, or essence of peppermint.

That you may have good success wherever you go.—(Josh. 1:7)

Can we think of anyone more admired than the one who is willing to do what is required of him, day by day, and who does it with a loving attitude? Sometimes we may think of success in terms of some grand accomplishment — we may not think of ourselves as a successful person. But the things you do without question or complaint, that you do willingly and happily, these mark you as a successful person.

In his travels through the Persian Gulf area and Mesopotamia, Alexander the Great heard tales of a kind of "water" that seeped out of the ground and burned, the National Geographic Society says. He didn't believe it until he tested the story by pouring the strange fluid over a boy, then igniting him with a torch. Petroleum is now the area's chief product.

Beat-The-Heat Fashions

SMOKE BROWN, a new color for summer, is counterpointed by bold white banding in the design (left) by Dauphine. The contour belt adds its own fashion dimension. Ellinor Pommier at L'Aiglon pares down this clean-limbed design (right) to a brisk-as-a-breeze little shape. In a linenlike fabric, it features the return of the belt. Color is Puerto pink.

NEW YORK — When summer comes to the city, a girl has to choose fashions that will help her to keep her cool. And for the coming season there is a wide choice of togs to do just that.

Breezy little skimmers, swingy fit and flare styles and the popular dirndls are waiting to be grabbed off the peg to give you carefree, hot-weather comfort.

Sleevelessness and spare shaping can take workday chores in stride. Loose, low belts keep pace with fashion but leave the waist unhampered.

Fabrics that don't wilt in the heat become more numerous each year. This time around we have airy voiles, sheer cottons and linenlike blends that know how to behave when the temperature soars into the 90s.

Then there are the psychological coolers — the dresses that look like frosty confections and make you feel cool just to slip into them.

Color plays a large role in this group — the new frosted pale browns and sherbet shades.

If you are one of the working crowd who must get through the summer in the steaming city, the fashion industry has outdone itself this time to keep you looking trim and pretty while you beat the heat.

Words Of Inspiration

By Rev. Howard W. Hill
1st Church Of Nazarene

I once read of a young minister, who was crossing a swollen river on a swimming horse.

In the midst of the raging, swirling waters, and with the horse wavering in uncertainty beneath him, the young preacher became dizzy and about to fall. A senior preacher, accustomed to such experiences, called out, "Lift up your eyes, look to that tree on the opposite side and never look away from it."

The tree was indifferent to the raging waters and the wavering steed. It stood anchored and steady, and to view it steadied the rider, so the shore was reached in safety.

Life is much like that. If we look at the swirling, raging times in which we live it will cause us to falter and fail. But if we look to the banks of the river of life we will see one who is not moved nor changed by our times.

We wouldn't question God's power, but sometimes we are prone to question his judgment.

Let us not forget, friend, we can trust God's silence as well as the times He chooses to make clear or explain to us His will in the circumstances of life.

That you may have good success wherever you go.—(Josh. 1:7)

Can we think of anyone more admired than the one who is willing to do what is required of him, day by day, and who does it with a loving attitude? Sometimes we may think of success in terms of some grand accomplishment — we may not think of ourselves as a successful person. But the things you do without question or complaint, that you do willingly and happily, these mark you as a successful person.

In his travels through the Persian Gulf area and Mesopotamia, Alexander the Great heard tales of a kind of "water" that seeped out of the ground and burned, the National Geographic Society says. He didn't believe it until he tested the story by pouring the strange fluid over a boy, then igniting him with a torch. Petroleum is now the area's chief product.

Easter Vacation, Spring Weather Bring Campers

LISBON — The Easter vacation and warm weather combined to get the Guilford Lake camping area off to a good start this weekend.

Nelson Hively, state park manager, said there were approximately 25 trailers and camper units on the grounds Friday night. He expects more to arrive today.

The park's trailer and camping area located at the Clewell landing entrance off County Rd. 411 will accommodate 70 units. It was overcrowded several times last summer.

The Guilford Ruritan Club will sponsor an Easter sunrise service at 6 a. m. at the picnic pavilion on Rd. 411.

Hively announced that the park will hold "open house" from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. Sunday, April 21. Guilford Ruritan will serve pancakes and sausages at the Guilford Grange Hall and Lisbon Ruritans will act as tour guides.

The lake, lowered seven feet last fall to prevent ice damage to docks, is within two feet of its summer level, Hively said. He reports a brisk business in boat and motor licenses and dock and tieup permits. The state park office near the dam at the east end of the lake is open daily.

A MOMENT OF MEDITATION

What Must I Do To Go To Heaven?

The question, "What does it take to go to Heaven?" is one that has had many different answers. Jesus said in Jno. 14:6 that there is just one way to go to Heaven. That way is through him. In our article today we would like to point out some of the answers that are given when a person asks concerning the way to go to Heaven. All answers to the question are wrong unless the answer came from Christ.

If a person wants to go to Heaven some will tell him just to live a good, clean life and he will be saved. In other words, they are saying that a good, moral life is all that is necessary. Let's study and see if this is the answer that Jesus gives in the Word of God. Read carefully Acts 10: 1-48. This account tells of the life of Cornelius, a good moral man. Cornelius is described as a man who was devout. He was sincerely religious. The Bible also says that he feared God with all his house. He gave much alms to the people and he prayed to God always. Surely, all will admit that this man is a good moral man. However, his morality has not saved him. He was an unsaved man until Peter came to him and taught him the will of the Lord. Acts 11:13, 14. He was not saved until he heard and obeyed the words that Peter spoke unto him. Cornelius and his friends were baptized. Acts 10:48. Thus, when someone says that all you need to go to Heaven is just to be a good man, they are not giving a Bible answer.

Others have answered that we will go to Heaven if we only believe. They contend that faith and faith only will save us. Is this a Bible answer? The Bible teaches that the kind of faith that saves us is the kind that is alive and obedient to the will of God. This can be clearly seen in James the second chapter and also in Hebrews the eleventh chapter. Those who were justified by faith had the kind of faith that obeyed God's word. Thus, our salvation is not by faith alone.

What then is the Bible answer to this question? Read Mt. 7:21. "Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven." We are saved by doing the Father's will. His will is that we believe in Jesus as His Son. Jno. 8:24. His will is that we repent of our sins. Lk. 13: 3. His will is that we confess that great name of Jesus. Mt. 10:32,33. His will is that we be baptized. Mk. 16:16; Acts 2:38. His will is that we remain faithful to Him. Rev. 2:10. Thise who do the will of the Father will go to Heaven. Have you done His will? Lee Copenhaver For Mayor. Earl Greenawalt for Council President.

Would you believe: Clyde Hall for City Treasurer?

Some of the political placards weathering away on tree trunks and utility poles in and around East Liverpool are old — but not that old.

City ordinances are pretty explicit about how and when the signs may be erected. But there's not one word about removing them after the campaign has ended and the election is history.

In fact, there's plenty of evidence in the current City Code that the regulations on bill-posting have not been updated since the turn of the century.

FOR INSTANCE, there's a section that requires an individual to pay a $10 fee and obtain a license from the mayor's office before doing any "bill-posting, advertising sign painting, card - tacking and bill distributing."

What's more, he must wear a "badge not less in size than the silver dollar of the United States of America with the words 'Licensed Advertiser' stamped thereon in large letters." The licensee must provide the badge at his own cost—which probably would exceed the price of the permit these days — and wear it "conspicuously on his clothing."

Nobody with a "Licensed Advertiser" badge on his galluses has walked through the Diamond since the days of the Buffalo Confectionery!

Candidates' placards from the municipal election five months ago still are displayed prominently along some of East Liverpool's busier thoroughfares. Political signs dating back as far as four to six years can be seen in other spots.

AND THE 1968 crop is growing fast. Aspirants are tacking up signs busily in preparation for the primaries next month.

Likely - looking trees spotted near a street and on a curve—where they'll be directly in a motorist's line of vision for a few seconds — seem to attract the most political placards. The Lisbon St. Hill, the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." and the River Rd., because they're heavily-traveled, draw a high percentage of the signs.

Dresden Ave. Ext. (old Route 30) also is a favorite spot for political advertisements. That's where most of the 1968 crop already has appeared.

In the area inside the corporate limits, candidates have complied pretty generally with an ordinance that forbids posting placards on utility poles. Old-timers at City Hall say the law was enacted many years ago to eliminate a hazard to linemen. Council took cognizance of the fact a linemen's spike "climber" might strike a tack head, causing it to slip and leaving the utility employe open to a nasty fall.

MOST OF THE signs still in place in the city are on tree trunks near busy streets. The he was bidding for a Liverpool heaviest accumulation seems to be along the Lisbon St. Hill. In a comparatively short stretch, there are placards advertising the candidacies of Frank P. Duffy, William T. Kind, Samuel B. Webber and Norman Bucher.

Webber's sign was posted well inside the city limits, although Township trustee's seat. Some of his yellow - and - black placards still are in place in other areas, including the Westfield Rd. Duffy, Kind, Webber and Bucher all were candidates in the 1967 general election.

The oldest signs turned up in an informal survey were found on the trunk of a tree on State St. near the Ralston's Crossing underpass. They advertise the candidacies of Rep. Wayne Hays, 18th District congressman, and the late Edmund Sargus, who was a state senator from this district.

At least three candidates have placed signs along outer Dresden Ave., preparing for the May primaries. They are Joseph Loha of Steubenville, bidding for state senator; Roy Allen of Columbiana, a candidate for state representative, and Lee Harrold of Columbiana, running for county commissioner.

THE CANDIDATES, of course, many times are only indirectly connected to the sign-posting. Frequently the placards are posted by campaign workers without any prior knowledge of the candidate about the exact locations.

The signs along the Lisbon St. Hill obviously are within the street right-of-way or on its immediate fringes. The Lisbon St. right-of-way is 60 feet wide. From the curb on the south side, where the signs are posted, it extends an additional 12 feet. The 12-foot stretch is reserved for a sidewalk that obviously never will be built, as it is on a sheer hillside that falls off toward Jethro Hollow.

Some candidates avoid the onus of hanging signs on trees or utility poles by the expedient of building a separate frame and support of light wood for each placard, then "planting" the signs on sloping embankments along highways. In municipal races particularly, many are displayed in store windows or in party headquarters, where laws on billposting do not apply.

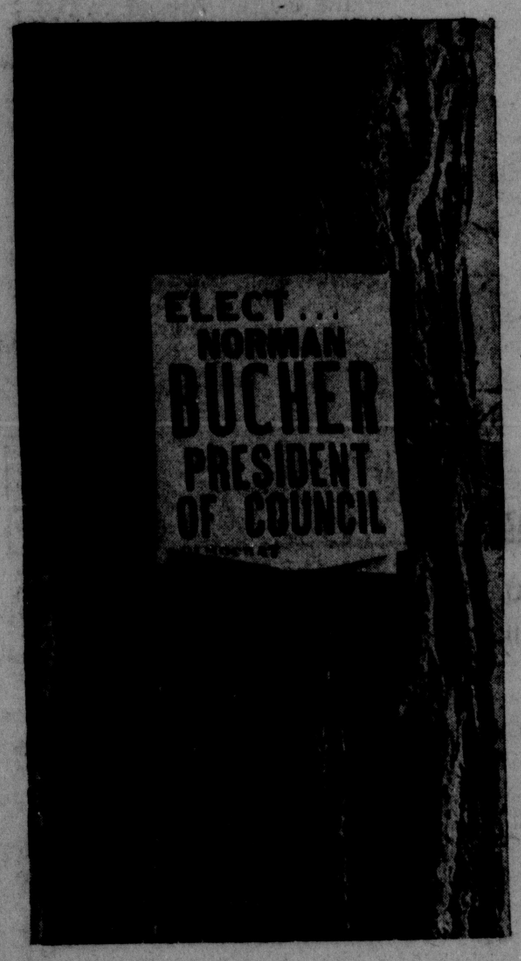

Some candidates, especially those running on a district or county level, utilitize a full 24-sheet billboard for their message. But those signs alway disappear eventually under a new message for beer, autos or gasoline.

NOBODY EVER has come up with a foolproof way of removing political signs after a campaign — short of fabricating them of some weather soluble material, but a candidate in the Far West solved his problem ingeniously and helped a worthy case at the same time.

The candidate placed an advertisement in the newspaper the day after the election, promising to pay 5 or 10 cents to any Boy Scout for each of his campaign posters brought to his office.

He said the response was phenomenal. It resulted in removal of the placards, and provided some money for the Scouts' troop fund.

"Leave me alone about that furniture! Get off my back!" Frank demanded of the man from the finance company.

"Look, Mr. Jones. You didn't live up to your end of the contract. We waited a long time — gave you plenty of notice — before we repossessed that furniture. You can't complain about that," the man replied.

"Then what's this business about me owing you some money? You got what you wanted," Frank replied.

"AS YOU WERE notified a long time ago, the furniture company sold us that note you signed to pay for the furniture. You had paid only about 20 per cent of the total price when we repossessed the merchandise. We also notified you that we planned to sell the furniture to redeem the purchase price. You said 'go ahead' — we've got your letter on that. Unfortunately, we were not able to get the full amount due in the sale. You still owe our company $139.-26," the finance company man stated.

"That's a lot of baloney. I can't help it if you guys are lousy salesmen," Frank retorted.

"SORRY, FRIEND. We tried. It costs us money to collect these kind of debts. It's not our problem that you paid too much for that pile of sticks. You signed the contract, not us. We bought it in good faith. You still owe us the difference between the contract price and what we were able to get from the sale," was the reply.

Frank must pay the $139.26. Many people believe that repossession relieves them of any liability and cancels the debt. As Frank found out, it doesn't.

The furniture company was within its legal rights to sell the note to a finance company. The finance company then got the same security interest in the goods as did the original seller. The finance company gave Frank every opportunity to start anew—but he didn't.

Q.—How can I remove candlewax drippings from a wood tabletop?

A.—After scraping off as much of the wax as possible with a wooden paddle, work on the residue by rubbing lightly with cheesecloth moistened with carbon tetrachloride. Operate quickly, and follow up at once with a dry-cloth polishing.

Q.—How can I insure the removal of lint when laundering black garments?

A.—By making the final rinse one of vinegar and water in equal parts. Many other such laundering tips are contained in my household book.

SINCE 1968 has been termed the International Year for Human Rights by the United Nations, many nations throughout the world will be issuing stamps honoring this universal occasion. The latest stamp in this series is from Cyprus and depicts a scroll with the wording "Universal Declaration of Human Rights —Article 1. All human beings are born free and equal in dignity and rights. . ." The U.N. symbol appears above the statement.

A NEW 6-cent stamp will be issued by the U.S. to celebrate the opening of the Arkansas River to commercial navigation. Although no date has been set for issuance, it may be released this fall when the channel will be completed to Little Rock, Ark. The engineering project will eventually provide Arkansas, Oklahoma and Kansas with a barge route to the Mississippi River and will become one of the nation's major inland waterways. Flood control and generation of hydroelectric power enhance the project.

Outdoor Notes

By HARRY STEWART
Review Staff Member

IF YOU REALLY WANT TO HAVE some fun, go out and steal a sign. This seems to be the way several jokers get their kicks nowadays.

Rangers at Beaver Creek State Park say they have been plagued with a rash of sign thefts.

The heavy signs — made of thick wood and colored with a brown stain so they blend with the outdoors background — are used to designate picnic, camping and fishing areas and so forth.

The signs usually are attached to a heavy post with long lag screws, however, these do not thwart the thieves. They just remove the screws and walk off with the sign. Rangers say they do not believe the markers are being burned for firewood, because if this was the case, evidence would turn up.

One very large marker was chopped down and cut up with an axe. How's that for real enjoyment?

Vandalism costs everyone, because it is the public's money that is being used to improve the park systems in the state.

COOPERATION FROM the general public can halt some of these senseless acts. An individual does not have to get directly involved, but at least he or she can report the violation to the proper authorities.

Beaver Creek Park area is one of the most beautiful spots in the state. It draws visitors from the Tri-State area. The park has not been fully developed and it will never be if someone continually undermines progress.

Acts of vandalism are not childish pranks! Cooperate with the authorities.

POOR OLD ISAAC. When we think of fishing experts, we naturally think of Mr. Walton. He penned a great volume on the various aspects of the art of angling, listing baits, tackles, methods and what have you.

But, it seems he was not first in his field. This honor apparently goes to a woman — a little English nun named Dame Juliana Berners.

Several have asked if I ever heard the story of Dame Juliana, and, if so, pass it along. Here it is:

Dame Juliana penned her famous words on the outdoors about 1425. She was born of a royal family in England and did some fishing and hunting as a young girl with friends and relatives.

Later, she entered a nunnery. It was here she wrote the first known works on fishing.

She even had recommendations for making a fishing rod. Juliana said first cut a smooth six-foot staff of willow or aspen. This should be heated in an oven, straightened and then dried for four weeks.

THE NEXT TRICK is to get a piece of plumber's wire, heat it red hot and burn a hole clear through the staff. Then store it in a smokehouse for a while.

Because all this takes time, Dame Juliana said you should take a stroll through the woods. While there, cut a slender slip of hazel the same length as the rod. Soak it thoroughly, straighten and then let it dry in the smokehouse.

The next step is to trim the hazel whip so it can be inserted into the butt section. Fashion a metal pin to hold the two together and you have a two-section fishing rod.

Juliana advocated such a rod because it forms a good walking staff for a Sunday afternoon stroll and can easily be transformed into a rod if you happen by a good fishing hole.

FOR LINE, Juliana suggested long horsehairs woven together. Color was even important then and she colored hers with a mixture of ale, crushed walnut leaves and alum. Such a line blends with the water and more readily fools the fish, she says.

Juliana warns against casting a shadow on the water. She recommends fishing below waterfalls or in deep pools, fishing when the wind is west and using a wire leader when after pike.

As for bait, select it with care because "you cannot bring a hook into a fish's mouth unless there is food on it that pleases him."

Dame Juliana has numerous other suggestions. Naturally many are outdated, but the basics are still the same.

NETTING OPERATIONS. Ohio has started netting muskies at Leesville Lake to obtain eggs for the hatcheries.

The netting of walleyes is over. Exceptional catches were reported in several area lakes.

More than 2,704 walleyes were taken in the test nets in eight days at Berlin Reservoir. They ranged from 13.7 to 22.7 inches, according to Ed Bradley, District III fish supervisor.

The nets also caught several thuosand white bass from 8 to 15 inches and crappies averaging 10 inches.

The first netting was conducted at Tappan Lake since fingerlings were stocked and the results show an outstanding walleye population. In fact, several six pounders were taken. The fish averaged 14 to 20 inches.

FISHING PROPECTS are getting better every day and this weekend should be fairly good.

Trout season opened today in Pennsylvania. The stocking trucks will roll again Monday morning, hitting the high pressure areas.

In West Virginia, one forecaster says bass fishing should be great and near ideal conditions exist for muskie fishing in the Little Kanawha River near Elizabeth.

In Columbiana County, a few small bass have been taken from Beaver Creek. Nice catches of suckers and rockbass have been reported.

Salamanders are a very good bass bait at present.

NO GASOLINE MOTORS will be permitted on Highlandtown Lake. Fishermen probably will be allowed to use electric motors up to four horsepower.

BETTER SERVICE. Pennsylvania has taken steps to make hunting licenses more readily available to the public. In the past, issuing agents sometimes ran out and were unable to meet the needs of sportsmen.

Licenses were given agents up to a certain amount, based on a bond they posted. Changes made by the legislature will permit the agents to order sufficient licenses to take care of the last minute rush.

Each county will be assigned a quota of issuing agencies based on population, area and hunting activities.

ANOTHER TIP. If your minnows start to belly-up in the bait bucket, drop a couple of aspirin tablets in the water. This will revive the minnows and keep them lively for a few hours.

I haven't tried this one, so use your own judgement. Do you have a brief tip that others could possibly use. Put it on a postcard and mail it to me in care or The Review.

FISHING NAVIGATION. Navigation as practiced on the "high seas" has little application on the average fishing waters, but navigation — of a sorts — can be an important aspect of every fishing trip.

Seldom is a knowledge of marine navigation necessary to most anglers. However, an acquaintanceship with a few rudiments won't hurt, either.

Knowing how to determine the boat's approximate position on a large lake not only helps keep one on course, but the same procedure enables a man to locate a hidden bar or dropoff where the fishing's good. Necessary tools include compass, chart, ruler and pencil.

Using the triangulation method, it becomes a simple chore to establish the boat's position in relation to compass readings from prominent landmarks.

The easiest way is to align the chart's "north" arrow with the compass needle. Hold a ruler over the chart and take a sighting at a feature on shore that also shows up on the chart. Draw a line on the chart along the straight edge.

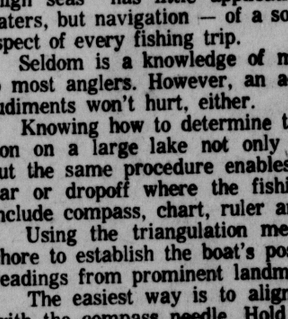

Then repeat the procedure on another landmark — on the opposite shore, if possible. Where the second line intersects the first you have your approximate position.

By reversing the steps, it is possible to run a boat up to a certain compass bearing and then jockey along it to reach the cross reference point where you want to fish.

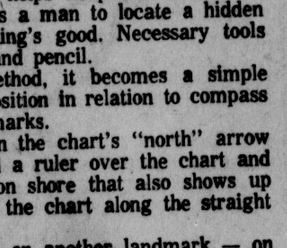

This system is only as good as the operator, but it can be reasonably accurate.

It's In Your Power...

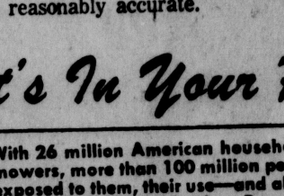

With 26 million American households equipped with power mowers, more than 100 million persons in those families are exposed to them, their use—and abuse! Here are some timely safety tips from the Outdoor Power Equipment Institute:

When you're driving, pay attention to where you're going. And don't forget to set the brake and stop the engine when you leave your machine—even for a little while.

Gasoline is highly flammable, so handle it with care and make sure you use an approved gasoline container. Don't ever gas up when the engine is running, while it is hot, or while you're smoking.

Kids and power mowers don't mix. Never allow children to operate your machine—nor grown-ups until they've had proper instruction. Resist the temptation to "give the kids a ride" on your mower. Young fry and pets should always be a safe distance away.

No doctor seems so wise as he,

He's a Digest reader and as such,
Is an expert at knowing very much.

He knows the law, is qualified

All through the livelong day and night . . .

If he is wrong, you'll never know it —
Not for a moment will he show it —
By no act of his nor word, alone,
Will he abdicate his haughty throne.

The how, the what-for and the who —
For, sad to say, I have one too!

IF YOU REALLY WANT TO HAVE some fun, go out and steal a sign. This seems to be the way several jokers get their kicks nowadays.

Rangers at Beaver Creek State Park say they have been plagued with a rash of sign thefts.

The heavy signs — made of thick wood and colored with a brown stain so they blend with the outdoors background — are used to designate picnic, camping and fishing areas and so forth.

The signs usually are attached to a heavy post with long lag screws, however, these do not thwart the thieves. They just remove the screws and walk off with the sign. Rangers say they do not believe the markers are being burned for firewood, because if this was the case, evidence would turn up.

One very large marker was chopped down and cut up with an axe. How's that for real enjoyment?

Vandalism costs everyone, because it is the public's money that is being used to improve the park systems in the state.

COOPERATION FROM the general public can halt some of these senseless acts. An individual does not have to get directly involved, but at least he or she can report the violation to the proper authorities.

Beaver Creek Park area is one of the most beautiful spots in the state. It draws visitors from the Tri-State area. The park has not been fully developed and it will never be if someone continually undermines progress.

Acts of vandalism are not childish pranks! Cooperate with the authorities.

POOR OLD ISAAC. When we think of fishing experts, we naturally think of Mr. Walton. He penned a great volume on the various aspects of the art of angling, listing baits, tackles, methods and what have you.

But, it seems he was not first in his field. This honor apparently goes to a woman — a little English nun named Dame Juliana Berners.

Several have asked if I ever heard the story of Dame Juliana, and, if so, pass it along. Here it is:

Dame Juliana penned her famous words on the outdoors about 1425. She was born of a royal family in England and did some fishing and hunting as a young girl with friends and relatives.

Later, she entered a nunnery. It was here she wrote the first known works on fishing.

She even had recommendations for making a fishing rod. Juliana said first cut a smooth six-foot staff of willow or aspen. This should be heated in an oven, straightened and then dried for four weeks.

THE NEXT TRICK is to get a piece of plumber's wire, heat it red hot and burn a hole clear through the staff. Then store it in a smokehouse for a while.

Because all this takes time, Dame Juliana said you should take a stroll through the woods. While there, cut a slender slip of hazel the same length as the rod. Soak it thoroughly, straighten and then let it dry in the smokehouse.

The next step is to trim the hazel whip so it can be inserted into the butt section. Fashion a metal pin to hold the two together and you have a two-section fishing rod.

Juliana advocated such a rod because it forms a good walking staff for a Sunday afternoon stroll and can easily be transformed into a rod if you happen by a good fishing hole.

FOR LINE, Juliana suggested long horsehairs woven together. Color was even important then and she colored hers with a mixture of ale, crushed walnut leaves and alum. Such a line blends with the water and more readily fools the fish, she says.

Juliana warns against casting a shadow on the water. She recommends fishing below waterfalls or in deep pools, fishing when the wind is west and using a wire leader when after pike.

As for bait, select it with care because "you cannot bring a hook into a fish's mouth unless there is food on it that pleases him."

Dame Juliana has numerous other suggestions. Naturally many are outdated, but the basics are still the same.

NETTING OPERATIONS. Ohio has started netting muskies at Leesville Lake to obtain eggs for the hatcheries.

The netting of walleyes is over. Exceptional catches were reported in several area lakes.

More than 2,704 walleyes were taken in the test nets in eight days at Berlin Reservoir. They ranged from 13.7 to 22.7 inches, according to Ed Bradley, District III fish supervisor.

The nets also caught several thuosand white bass from 8 to 15 inches and crappies averaging 10 inches.

The first netting was conducted at Tappan Lake since fingerlings were stocked and the results show an outstanding walleye population. In fact, several six pounders were taken. The fish averaged 14 to 20 inches.

FISHING PROPECTS are getting better every day and this weekend should be fairly good.

Trout season opened today in Pennsylvania. The stocking trucks will roll again Monday morning, hitting the high pressure areas.

In West Virginia, one forecaster says bass fishing should be great and near ideal conditions exist for muskie fishing in the Little Kanawha River near Elizabeth.

In Columbiana County, a few small bass have been taken from Beaver Creek. Nice catches of suckers and rockbass have been reported.

Salamanders are a very good bass bait at present.

NO GASOLINE MOTORS will be permitted on Highlandtown Lake. Fishermen probably will be allowed to use electric motors up to four horsepower.

BETTER SERVICE. Pennsylvania has taken steps to make hunting licenses more readily available to the public. In the past, issuing agents sometimes ran out and were unable to meet the needs of sportsmen.

Licenses were given agents up to a certain amount, based on a bond they posted. Changes made by the legislature will permit the agents to order sufficient licenses to take care of the last minute rush.

Each county will be assigned a quota of issuing agencies based on population, area and hunting activities.

ANOTHER TIP. If your minnows start to belly-up in the bait bucket, drop a couple of aspirin tablets in the water. This will revive the minnows and keep them lively for a few hours.

I haven't tried this one, so use your own judgement. Do you have a brief tip that others could possibly use. Put it on a postcard and mail it to me in care or The Review.

FISHING NAVIGATION. Navigation as practiced on the "high seas" has little application on the average fishing waters, but navigation — of a sorts — can be an important aspect of every fishing trip.

Seldom is a knowledge of marine navigation necessary to most anglers. However, an acquaintanceship with a few rudiments won't hurt, either.

Knowing how to determine the boat's approximate position on a large lake not only helps keep one on course, but the same procedure enables a man to locate a hidden bar or dropoff where the fishing's good. Necessary tools include compass, chart, ruler and pencil.

Using the triangulation method, it becomes a simple chore to establish the boat's position in relation to compass readings from prominent landmarks.

The easiest way is to align the chart's "north" arrow with the compass needle. Hold a ruler over the chart and take a sighting at a feature on shore that also shows up on the chart. Draw a line on the chart along the straight edge.

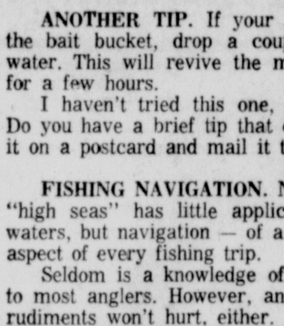

Then repeat the procedure on another landmark — on the opposite shore, if possible. Where the second line intersects the first you have your approximate position.

By reversing the steps, it is possible to run a boat up to a certain compass bearing and then jockey along it to reach the cross reference point where you want to fish.

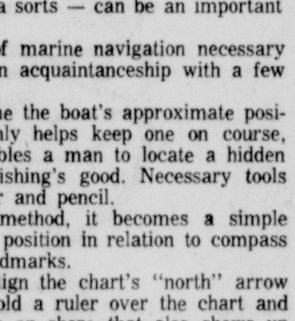

This system is only as good as the operator, but it can be reasonably accurate.

It's In Your Power...

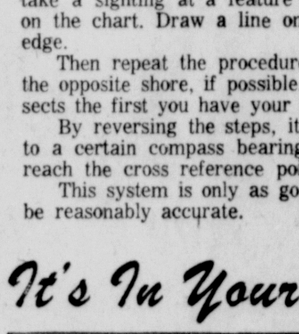

With 26 million American households equipped with power mowers, more than 100 million persons in those families are exposed to them, their use—and abuse! Here are some timely safety tips from the Outdoor Power Equipment Institute:

When you're driving, pay attention to where you're going. And don't forget to set the brake and stop the engine when you leave your machine—even for a little while.

Gasoline is highly flammable, so handle it with care and make sure you use an approved gasoline container. Don't ever gas up when the engine is running, while it is hot, or while you're smoking.

Kids and power mowers don't mix. Never allow children to operate your machine—nor grown-ups until they've had proper instruction. Resist the temptation to "give the kids a ride" on your mower. Young fry and pets should always be a safe distance away.

1,800 Killed Annually In Crossing Mishaps

Train Accidents Increase Sharply

By JACK MILLER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The number of U.S. train accidents is increasing sharply, with about 1,800 persons killed annually in rail-crossing mishaps alone.

After years of decline the number of rail accidents began shooting upward in 1961. The steepest jump—14 per cent—occurred in 1966 when 6,793 accidents were recorded.

1,780 Died In 1966

Also in 1966, the last year for which complete figures are available, 1,780 persons died in rail-crossing accidents.

Government officials say the reason for the accident increase — apart from those at highway crossings — is that financially troubled railroads put less money into maintenance.

There are many complex reasons for grade - crossing accidents, the officials said.

In a 1966 Sacramento, Calif., wreck, the National Transportation Safety Board concluded that Herbert R. Hill had been lured into the crash by a "booby trap crossing."

Hill, his wife and five of their children were killed when a freight train hit their station wagon.

Warning Light Set Off

The board said the warning lights often were set off by routine switching operations when no trains went through the crossing, and Hill and others living in the area had become used to such false alarms.

H. R. Longhurst, acting director of the Federal Bureau of Railroad Safety, says another reason for the increase in crossing accidents may be that there are many more cars on the highway, producing more impatient drivers trying to beat the train.

"Even when gates are provided, some drivers will go around them because they don't want to spend a couple of minutes waiting," Longhurst said.

He added that many people ignore warning signs until they're on the track.

"Then they look left and right, but it doesn't do much good at that point," he said.

Secretary of Transportation Alan S. Boyd ordered last August a safety program, including a request that states select a total of 200 crossings in the country for testing the "most suitable known or proposed system of protection."

The department is studying proposals for greater federal regulative authority, now limited to signal devices and automatic control systems for trains and to such safety appliances as brakes.

A report prepared by the department says a broad segment of opinion holds that state highway departments "are not voluntarily using enough of their federal-aid highway funds for grade-crossing improvements."

Federal Funds Available

Of $360 million in federal funds available in 1965, the states used $166 million.

But officials point out that much of the amount was used for interstate projects, which often add rather than repace crossings. The government pays 90 per cent of all interstate costs, including crossings, but only 50 per cent for projects on other systems.

Federal Railroad Administrator A. Scheffer Lang, said another part of the problem is that most railway crossings are on roads not eligible for federal-aid funds. He said statistics indicate it is these crossings at which most of the accidents occur.

Lang said many warning systems at crossings were built for automobile speeds of the 1930s, with the result that many cars are slamming into trains or lowered safety gates.

Smoke Seen For Miles As Tires Burn

LISBON — A pile of 1,000 junk tires caught fire about 6 p.m. Friday at Coalmer's Service Station on the Columbiana Rd., two miles north of here.

Clouds of dense black smoke were visible for 10 miles and more. The Lisbon volunteer fire department used tons of water to extinguish the blaze.

Firemen were called when leaping flames threatened buildings.

Bratt Recalls Bataan Action

Bill Bratt of Wellsville, a veteran of World War II, reviewed some of his experiences in the Pacific theater and screened slides of a cemetery near Manila when he addressed the Lions Club Friday at the Travelers Hotel.

About 550 members of the American Defenders of Bataan and Corregidor, Inc., re-visited the Philippines in April 1967, toured the sites of the Japanese prisoner - of - war camps and paid homage to the Americans who had died there.

The slides, taken during the visit, pictured the graves and memorials built to honor the thousands who died in the Pacific theater.

The trend is clear!

More than 3 million American homes are heated electrically. The Federal Power Commission forecasts 19 million families will convert to or build electrically heated homes within just 12 years! Why?

Ben Franklin's stoves sold like hotcakes because they were more efficient than an open fire. The pot bellied stove was replaced by central heating systems. Today's big home-heating trend is another vast improvement . . . flameless electric . . . because it offers such a wide choice of systems and so many more advantages that it makes other methods of heating seem clumsy and old-fashioned. More convenient, more comfortable, more versatile, electric heat gives you more for your money. And you can enjoy it now, in your present house.

Any home can be converted to clean electric heat, easily and economically. Let us prove it. Call us . . . or mail this coupon.

Smoke Seen For Miles As Tires Burn

LISBON — A pile of 1,000 junk tires caught fire about 6 p.m. Friday at Coalmer's Service Station on the Columbiana Rd., two miles north of here.

Clouds of dense black smoke were visible for 10 miles and more. The Lisbon volunteer fire department used tons of water to extinguish the blaze.

Harry Coalmer said the tires were in a field near the edge of a strip mine cut and probably caught fire from burning trash. He said the tires had no value, although orchardists used them occasionally for smudge fires.

Firemen were called when leaping flames threatened buildings.

Torre's Sub Is Hero In Braves' Victory; Astros Top Phils, 5-2

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

One of Atlanta's heavyweights is hurting but the Braves' light brigade is feeling no pain.

injured Joe Torre Friday night, walloped a two-run homer in the seventh, carrying the Braves to a 4-3 victory over Cincinnati in their 1968 home opener.

Pitcher Phil Niekro and shortstop Sonny Jackson also homered for the Braves, who had dropped their first two games this season on the road and were winless in two previous home openers at Atlanta.

In the night's only other major league action, the Houston Astros struck for four runs in the fifth inning and trimmed Philadelphia 5-2 for their third victory without a loss.

Torre, Atlanta's brawny cleanup hitter, caught a foul tip on his right ring finger in the Reds' third and left the game with a split fingernail. Harvey Stone, the Braves' trainer, said the injury didn't appear to be serious.

Niekro and Cincinnati's John Tsitouris hooked up in a 1-1 duel until the seventh, when the Atlanta knuckleballer led off with his first major league homer. Hank Aaron singled and Tillman, acquired from the New York Yankees last winter to back up Torre, slammed a fast ball over the center field fence.

The Reds countered with two runs in the eighth before Cecil Upshaw, pitching in relief of Nekro, worked out of a bases loaded, none out jam. Upshaw also weathered a ninth inning rally when pinch runner Bob Johnson was thrown out trying to score from first on a double by Pete Rose.

Tony Perez' second homer of the young season gave the Reds a 1-0 edge in the second inning but Jackson, obtained from Houston in another winter deal, tied it in the third with his first homer since 1966.

Rookie Hector Torres, the supposedly light-hitting shortstop who has replaced Jackson in the Houston infield, touched off the Astros' fifth-inning burst with one of his three singles. Rusty Staub's two-run double keyed the decisive rally. Ron Davis also delivered two runs with a single and double.

Cookie Rojas stroked four of the Phillies' 11 hits off winner Denny Lemaster, who needed relief help from John Buzhardt in the eighth.

Blues Need Victory To End Series

By The Associated Press

The ceiling is back in place at the Philadelphia Spectrum after a losing battle recently with a gusty wind, but the St. Louis Blues hope to raise the roof tonight by clinching their National Hockey League Stanley Cup semifinal series with the Flyers.

The Blues lead Philadelphia's West Division winners three games to one in their best-of-7 set. A victory tonight would enable the third-place Blues to sit back and await the winner of the Los Angeles-Minnesota series, which resumes in Los Angeles tonight with the teams knotted at two games apiece.

The New York Rangers were in Chicago to meet the resurgent Black Hawks today in a nationally televised game. The Rangers hold a 2-1 lead in the East Division semifinal following Chicago's 7-4 triumph Thursday night.

The Montreal Canadiens, regular season winners in the East, won their semifinal series Thursday by edging Boston 3-2 for a four-game sweep.

Atlanta Gets Long Ball From Unexpected Source

By MIKE BARRON
Associated Press Sports Writer

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The Atlanta Braves' big weapon, the home run, came from some unexpected sources Friday night, but it still brought the team's first victory in a home opener since the move from Milwaukee in 1966.

The homers, which produced a 4-3 victory over Cincinnati, came from catcher Bob Tillman, who had only three last year; shortstop Sonny Jackson, who didn't hit any last season and never had hit one over the fence, and pitcher Phil Niekro, who never had even hit one in the majors.

Tillman, who hit the winning homer, a two-run shot in the seventh, hadn't been scheduled to play. He got into the game in the third inning after Joe Torre suffered a split fingernail on his right hand from a foul tip off the bat of Pete Rose. Trainer Harvey Stone said the injury didn't appear to be serious.

Tillman struck out with the bases loaded in the fifth inning to quell a budding rally. But with Hank Aaron on first with a single in the seventh, the former New York Yankee smashed a fast ball 407 feet over the center field fence.

He hit three homers last year with the Yankees.

Niekro's homer, which led off the seventh, was a 340-foot shot barely far down the left field line.

Jackson, acquired by the Braves from Houston in a trade before this season, had hit only three major league homers, all year before last.

His 377-foot homer over the right field fence came in the third inning, erasing a 1-0 lead the Reds had taken on Tony Perez' homer in the second, his second of the year.

Brandys Play And Shushan In Rematch

The Easter Parade Purse at Waterford Park tonight has attracted the two top horses of the meeting.

Shushan, the front running speedster who upset Brandys Play after he had won 11 races in a row — and Brandys Play, coming back to face his conqueror after a week's rest. Cecil Rogers, trainer of Brandys Play, also named Slipton Fell to run as an entry with Brandys Play. Slipton Fell holds the record for a mile at Waterford Park.

"Brandys Play met with some bad racing luck when beaten by Shushan, "Rogers said as he watched his pair go around the Waterford oval in a final tuneup for what many call the "rematch." Herb Jolley, who handles Shushan, had no comment except to say that he felt the records speak for him. At this time the records are in Jolley's favor. His Shushan met Brandys Play once and he beat him in a rather handy manner by 2 lengths.

The Easter Parade is six furlongs, the same distance as last Saturday's race in which Brandys Play met his only defeat over the Waterford oval. He had won 11 in a row until he finished second to Shushan. Ten of the victories were in 1967 and one this year. Had Brandys Play won his 12th last Saturday he would have been seeking No. 13 on the 13th of the month.

Arnie Doesn't Make Cut; Nicklaus One Behind

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Gary Player went for the pin with monotonous regularity. Don January went to his wedge with remarkable results. Arnold Palmer went home to Latrobe, Pa.

Player and January tamed tough Augusta National and soared into the second-round lead of the 1968 Masters Golf tournament, but the capricious course snapped back at the old master, Palmer, and sent him reeling home, a victim of the cut.

The four-time winner of this tournament, the game's all-time leading money winner, the most magnetic personality in the sport staggered, stumbled and struggled to a fantastic 79, seven over par for the 6,980-yard layout. That went with a 72 for 151, two strokes above the cut.

"It's the worst round I've ever had here," Palmer said. "I don't know where I was, but I wasn't on the course. I must have been some place else."

Player, the little South African who has won all the world's major titles, had a second round 77 for 139 Friday and a share of the top spot with January, the PGA champ. January had a 68.

But the best round of the day was Frank Beard's. He reeled off seven birdies without a bogey for a 65, just one stroke off the record, for 140 and a share of third place with Bob Goalby and Jack Nicklaus. Goalby had a 70, Nicklaus a 71.

Tommy Aaron, with a 72, was alone at 141.

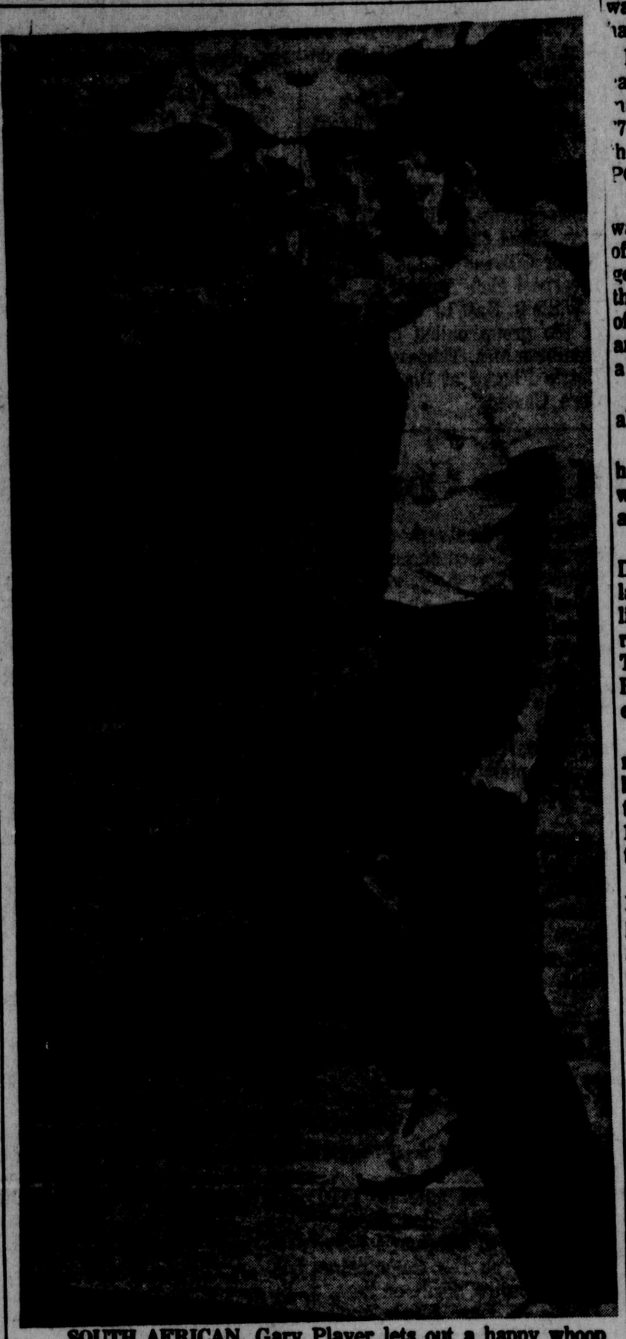

The other first-round leaders had their troubles. Billy Casper, whose 68 led after 18 holes, took a 75 for 143.

British Open champ Roberto De Vicenzo of Argentina, England's Tony Jacklin and Australian Bruce Devlin, all with first round 69s, each had a 73 for 142. They are tied at that figure with Ray Floyd and Bert Yancey, each with a 71.

Palmer, who had never before missed the cut here, had four bogeys, a double bogey and a triple bogey 8, the latter on the 15th where he put two shots in the water.

He also was in the water on 12 for a double bogey, three putted two greens, took three to get down from the fringe on another and on yet another was in a trap and needed two putts.

"Don't ask me what I did," he said. "I hit so many shots I don't remember them all."

SOUTH AFRICAN, Gary Player lets out a happy whoop on the 18th green after sinking a birdie putt to put him in a two-way tie for the lead in the Masters Tournament at Augusto, Ga. Player fired a five-under-par 67 and holds a 36-hole total of 139. (UPI Telephoto)

'Don't Think It's Age,' Palmer Says At Masters

By RON SPEER
Associated Press Sports Writer

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Is Arnold Palmer past his prime at the age of 38?

Definitely not, says the famed golfer.

"I don't feel old at all," added Palmer Friday after he failed to survive the cut at the halfway mark in the Masters, his favorite tournament.

"I don't know what's wrong with me," Palmer said, "but I don't think it's age.

"I sure hope age is not one of my problems, I've got enough others right now," said the four-time Masters champion who soared to a 79 in the second round, his worst showing ever at the Augusta National.

"Jack Nicklaus missed the cut last year at the Masters—and he's 10 years younger than I am," Palmer said.

Palmer's disaster-marked 79—which included a double-bogey 5 and a triple-bogey 8—left him with a 36-hole total of 151, two strokes over the cutoff mark.

"I don't know what was the matter, but I knew things weren't right," Palmer said of his play. "I couldn't make myself do the things I knew I had to do.

"I sure hope things get better," he said. "I can't stand much more of this."

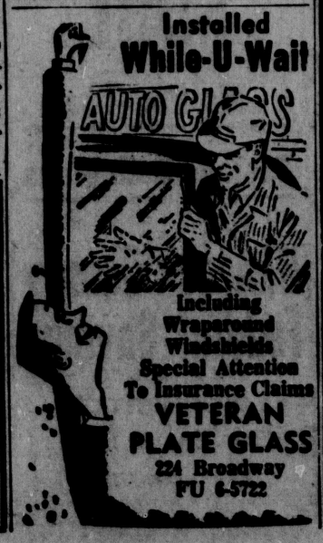

Palmer hasn't won any of the big prestige tournaments since he captured his fourth Masters championship in 1964.

The millionaire, who heads a massive business organization which peddles such things as laundries, clothes, golf clubs and golf courses, missed the cut at the Citrus Open in Orlando, Fla., last month.

However, he won the Bob Hope Desert Classic last winter, and is the all-time leading money winner in golf.

Tribe, Bosox Open 2-Game Series Today

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Indians and Boston Red Sox open a two-game series here today and the Red Sox are hoping for the same kind of success they had in Cleveland last season.

The Red Sox beat the Indians in 13 of 18 games in winning the 1967 American League pennant and their record at Cleveland Stadium was 8-1.

The mound opponents for the series opener will be Steve Hargan, the Tribe's winningest pitcher last year with 14 victories, and Gary Waslewski, Boston's best pitcher during spring exhibition games.

Both are right-handers and each will be making his first start of the season. Waslewski shut out the opposition in the last 18 innings he pitched in the Grapefruit League.

Jerry Stephenson will start for the Red Sox in the Sunday afternoon game. He will be opposed by Sonny Siebert, who pitched a two-hitter in shutting out the Chicago White Sox, 9-0, in the season opener Wednesday in Chicago.

1,800 Killed Annually In Crossing Mishaps

Train Accidents Increase Sharply

By JACK MILLER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The number of U.S. train accidents is increasing sharply, with about 1,800 persons killed annually in rail-crossing mishaps alone.

After years of decline the number of rail accidents began shooting upward in 1961. The steepest jump—14 per cent—occurred in 1966 when 6,793 accidents were recorded.

1,780 Died In 1966

Also in 1966, the last year for which complete figures are available, 1,780 persons died in rail-crossing accidents.

Government officials say the reason for the accident increase – apart from those at highway crossings -- is that financially troubled railroads put less money into maintenance.

There are many complex reasons for grade - crossing accidents, the officials said.

In a 1966 Sacramento, Calif., wreck, the National Transportation Safety Board concluded that Herbert R. Hill had been lured into the crash by a "booby trap crossing."

Hill, his wife and five of their children were killed when a freight train hit their station wagon.

Warning Light Set Off

The board said the warning lights often were set off by routine switching operations when no trains went through the crossing, and Hill and others living in the area had become used to such false alarms.

H. R. Longhurst, acting director of the Federal Bureau of Railroad Safety, says another reason for the increase in crossing accidents may be that there are many more cars on the highway, producing more impatient drivers trying to beat the train.

"Even when gates are provided, some drivers will go around them because they don't want to spend a couple of minutes waiting," Longhurst said.

He added that many people ignore warning signs until they're on the track.

"Then they look left and right, but it doesn't do much good at that point," he said.

Secretary of Transportation Alan S. Boyd ordered last August a safety program, including a request that states select a total of 200 crossings in the country for testing the "most suitable known or proposed system of protection."

The department is studying proposals for greater federal regulative authority, now limited to signal devices and automatic control systems for trains and to such safety appliances as brakes.

A report prepared by the department says a broad segment of opinion holds that state highway departments "are not voluntarily using enough of their federal-aid highway funds for grade-crossing improvements."

Federal Funds Available

Of $360 million in federal funds available in 1965, the states used $166 million.

But officials point out that much of the amount was used for interstate projects, which ofted add rather than repace crossings. The government pays 90 per cent of all interstate costs, including crossings, but only 50 per cent for projects on other systems..

Federal Railroad Administrator A. Scheffer Lang, said another part of the problem is that most railway crossings are on roads not eligible for federal-aid funds. He said statistics indicate it is these crossings at which most of the accidents occur.

Lang said many warning systems at crossings were built for automobile speeds of the 1930s, with the result that many cars are slamming into trains or lowered safety gates.

Pirate Pitching, So Far, So Good

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Things might be looking up for the Pittsburgh Pirates pitching staff.

In two games so far this season, Buc hurlers have looked good. It was a different story last year.

Although the Pirates dropped the opener to Houston, Jim Bunning pitched well enough to win most games.

That wasn't surprising since Bunning had strong credentials when he joined the Pirates after pitching for Philadelphia.

In the second game, a 3-1 victory over the San Francisco Giants, Pirate pitchers came on strong again.

Starter Bob Veale worked 12 strong innings and rookie Bob Moose looked like a veteran in the one inning he worked in the 15-inning game.

Many of the Giants expected Veale to crack in the long, close game.

"I've never seen Veale better," said Giant Willie Mays. "There are few pitchers who could have stayed even with Mike McCormick the way he was pitching. Veale did it."

Moose, 20-year-old from Export, Pa., had the poise of a veteran in the tight game.

When Donn Clendenon messed up a game—ending throw in the 15th inning, Moose had to pitch to Jim Davenport, and some thought the youngster might lose control.

Moose nailed Davenport on an easy fly to center field.

"Why should Clendenon's error have bothered me?" asked Moose with youthful innocence.

"It was just one of those things. I just had to pitch to one more man."

Pirate manager Larry Shepard said of Moose:

"The kid acted like he has been pitching in the big leagues all his life. He looks like a real find. Nothing bothers the boy."

Shepard is using Moose as a reliever in the early part of the season. He indicated he may move him into the starting rotation in the near future.

The Pirates were idle Friday.

They play the Giants today with Al McBean opposing the Giants' Gaylord Perry.

Ralph Boston Was Upset, Will Try For Olympics

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP) — Ralph Boston says he was upset over the assassination of Martin Luther King Jr. last week when he said he would not try out for the U.S. Olympic Track and Field team.

"I was not myself. But unless you are a Negro you cannot imagine what Dr. King's death meant," the stellar long jumper told an audience of athletes recently in announcing he had changed his mind and would try out for the team.

"I was ignoring what President Johnson said the night of the assassination. He asked the nation to remain calm. I did not and it was my fault.

"You know all those things that Stokely Carmichael and Rap Brown have said? They go through your mind, even if you don't believe them. When something like this happens, when you're thinking irrationally, then suddenly they seem right."

Boston who shares the world long jump record, said he would try to make the U.S. team and would dedicate his efforts at the Olympics to King's memory. He said he will retire afterward.

'Is There A Doctor In The House' For 76ers?

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia 76ers could be billed as the best touring troupe in basketball. All they need is a doctor to complete the cast.

Going into the fourth game Sunday of their National Basketball Association playoff series with the Boston Celtics, the 76ers are hurting from head to toe.

So what's new? Injuries have plagued the defending NBA champions since the opening of the season.

Harvey Pollack, the 76ers' statistician, ticked off some of the injuries:

—Wilt Chamberlain, partial tear of the calf muscle in his right leg, a strain in his right thigh and an injured right toe.

—Wally Jones, injured knee cartilage.

—Luke Jackson pulled hamstring muscle.

—Hal Greer, bursitis in his right knee.

—Billy Cunningham, broken right wrist.

The 76ers have nine men in uniform for the best-of-seven playoffs, which they lead, two games to one. But whether they'll have anybody left for the finals against the Western Division winner is anybody's guess.

Eight Derby Eligibles In Gotham Run

NEW YORK (AP) — Eight Kentucky Derby eligibles were set to take another Derby test today, the Gotham Stakes, while six others, led by What A Pleasure, were out to give them bad grades.

What A Pleasure, owned by Wheatley Stable, was assigned 122 pounds, four less than Derby nominees Wise Exchange and Bugged.

Wise Exchange, owned by Isidor Bieber, rated the early favorite's role, with the entry of What A Pleasure and Irish Chief, also ineligible for the Derby, the second favorite.

The gross purse for the mile race if all 14 run would be $61,500. Making it the richest Gotham. ever. Post time was about 4 :45 p.m., EST.

Other Derby candidates in the field and their weights were Elmedorf's Verbatim, 118, and Hobeau Farm's Conceited, Edwin Weisl's Wellpoised, Jack Amiel's Mr. Hasty, Edith Marienhoff's Tough Sledding and Triad Stable's That's Mine, 114 each.

Joining What A Pleasure and Irish Chief in an effort to shake Derby hopes were Hollylor's Eastern Affair, 118 and Cambridge Stable's Hand To Hand, Jacques Wimpfheimer's Shy Native and Mrs. Wallace Gilroy's Boyinahurry.

Smoke Seen For Miles As Tires Burn

LISBON — A pile of 1,000 junk tires caught fire about 6 p.m. Friday at Coalmer's Service Station on the Columbiana Rd., two miles north of here.

Clouds of dense black smoke were visible for 10 miles and more. The Lisbon volunteer fire department used tons of water to extinguish the blaze.

Harry Coalmer said the tires were in a field near the edge of a strip mine cut and probably caught fire from burning trash. He said the tires had no value, although orchardists used them occasionally for smudge fires.

Firemen were called when leaping flames threatened buildings.

Bratt Recalls Bataan Action

Bill Bratt of Wellsville, a veteran of World War II, reviewed some of his experiences in the Pacific theater and screened slides of a cemetery near Manila when he addressed the Lions Club Friday at the Travelers Hotel.

Bratt, a member of the American Defenders of Bataan and Corregidor, Inc., described the general feeling of Americans captured by the Japanese during the first days of the war.

He recalled the infamous "death march" in which 11,000 prisoners were subjected to atrocities at the hands of the Japanese.

About 550 members of the American Defenders of Bataan and Corregidor, Inc., re-visited the Philippines in April 1967, toured the sites of the Japanese prisoner - of - war camps and paid homage to the Americans who had died there.

The slides, taken during the visit, pictured the graves and memorials built to honor the thousands who died in the Pacific theater.

During the business session, Charles Haugh, president, reminded members of the zone meeting to be held Thursday at New Waterford. The meeting will begin at 6:45.

Haugh also announced that the broom sale will begin at the end of April.

The trend is clear!

More than 3 million American homes are heated electrically. The Federal Power Commission forecasts 19 million families will convert to or build electrically heated homes within just 12 years! Why?

Ben Franklin's stoves sold like hotcakes because they were more efficient than an open fire. The pot bellied stove was replaced by central heating systems. Today's big home-heating trend is another vast improvement . . . flameless electric . . . because it offers such a wide choice of systems and so many more advantages that it makes other methods of heating seem clumsy and old-fashioned. More convenient, more comfortable, more versatile, electric heat gives you more for your money. And you can enjoy it now, in your present house.

Any home can be converted to clean electric heat, easily and economically. Let us prove it. Call us . . . or mail this coupon.

The DOCTOR Says

By Dr. W. G. Brandstadt

Nerve Inflammation Seen Cause of Palsy

The most frequent type of paralysis of the facial nerve is Bell's palsy. It affects only one side of the face and is caused by an inflammation of the nerve. This in turn may be caused by exposure to cold, a tumor or an infection, usually with a virus. Recent reports indicate that it is sometimes caused by airplane travel in persons with a blockage of the Eustachian tube leading from the middle ear to the throat. This type of Bell's palsy always clears up spontaneously. In older persons the disease may be associated with diabetes or hardening of the arteries.

Dr. Brandstadt

THE ONSET is usually sudden and the victim is unable to close his eyelids completely or wrinkle his brow on the affected side or to whistle. It is important to remember that Bell's palsy is not the result of a stroke—a frequent source of worry. Patients with stroke involving the facial muscles can't whistle but they can rwinkle their brows and close their eyelids.

—:—

ABOUT 75 per cent of all cases recover without treatment within a few weeks. Unfortunately, there is no easy way to identify the 25 per cent who will need treatment. When tests of function made three days after the onset show that the facial paralysis is incomplete, recovery is the rule. But it is also true that 50 per cent of those whose paralysis is complete will recover as well. Tests of the electrical conduction through the affected nerve early in the course of the disease help to determine which victims need treatment.

—:—

SOME DOCTORS have had good results with the anti-inflammatory drug, ACTH, started on the first day of the disease. Others prefer blocking the sympathetic nerves in the neck on the affected side. While waiting for return of function in the facial nerve heat, massage and electrical stimulation are beneficial.

—:—

ANOTHER treatment that has given excellent results in selected cases is a surgical widening of the bony channel through which the inflamed nerve passes. This relieves pressure on the nerve which, if allowed to continue, leads to permanent degeneration of the nerve. Full recovery following this operation occurs in two to eight weeks.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M. D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Hearing Planned In Traffic Case

A Municipal Court hearing is scheduled Monday for Edward J. Emler, 33, of 7th Ave., La-Croft, who pleaded not guilty before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff Friday on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Emler was cited by police Thursday afternoon after a collision on Dresden Ave. at W. 7th St. that involved his car and an auto operated by Arthur L. White, 62, of Echo Dr., Wellsville.

A hearing also is set tentatively Monday morning for Raymond D. Humphreys, 54, of 1680 Cleveland Ave., cited on a reckless driving charge after his auto veered off Harvey Ave. Thursday night, striking a utility pole and a metering station owned by the Ohio Valley Gas Co.

Meanwhile, Charles Weyand, 24, of Dodge St. was fined $25 and costs Friday on a charge of failure to halt in the assured clear distance. Police said his auto hit the rear of another Thursday afternoon on St. Clair Ave. at E. 9th St.

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN loving memory of our Uncle, J. T. WATKIN, JR. who passed away April 14, 1967:
Sad and sudden was the call, of one so dear and loved by all. His loving heart had ceased to beat, Before we knew it, he was gone, a bitter grief, a shock severe, to part with one we loved so dear. God loved him, too, and thought it best, so He took him home to eternal rest. But only those who loved him best can tell the heartache of not saying farewell.
Sadly missed by niece and husband, Janet and Jimmy Shaw.

In loving memory of our son and brother, Charles Dean Tice. Feb. 1, 1938 to April 14, 1961. Father, Mother, Sister and Brothers.

3 CARDS OF THANKS

WE little think as we go from day to day, how quickly sorrow can strike at the heart, but when it did, the sympathy and helpfulness of friends were deeply comforting in the loss of our beloved father, Robert J. Bennett Sr. We are grateful to everyone who has given and offered their services to us.

Torre's Sub Is Hero In Braves' Victory; Astros Top Phils, 5-2

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

One of Atlanta's heavyweights is hurting but the Braves' light brigade is feeling no pain.

injured Joe Torre Friday night, walloped a two-run homer in the seventh, carrying the Braves to a 4-3 victory over Cincinnati in their 1968 home opener.

Pitcher Phil Niekro and shortstop Sonny Jackson also homered for the Braves, who had dropped their first two games this season on the road and were winless in two previous home openers at Atlanta.

In the night's only other major league action, the Houston Astros struck for four runs in the fifth inning and trimmed Philadelphia 5-2 for their third victory without a loss.

Torre, Atlanta's brawny cleanup hitter, caught a foul tip on his right ring finger in the Reds' third and left the game with a split fingernail. Harvey Stone, the Braves' trainer, said the injury didn't appear to be serious.

Niekro and Cincinnati's John Tsitouris hooked up in a 1-1 duel until the seventh, when the Atlanta knuckleballer led off with his first major league homer. Hank Aaron singled and Tillman, acquired from the New York Yankees last winter to back up Torre, slammed a fast ball over the center field fence.

The Reds countered with two runs in the eighth before Cecil Upshaw, pitching in relief of Nekro, worked out of a bases loaded, none out jam. Upshaw also weathered a ninth inning rally when pinch runner Bob Johnson was thrown out trying to score from first on a double by Pete Rose.

Tony Perez' second homer of the young season gave the Reds a 1-0 edge in the second inning but Jackson, obtained from Houston in another winter deal, tied it in the third with his first homer since 1966.

Rookie Hector Torres, the supposedly light-hitting shortstop who has replaced Jackson in the Houston infield, touched off the Astros' fifth-inning burst with one of his three singles. Rusty Staub's two-run double keyed the decisive rally. Ron Davis also delivered two runs with a single and double.

Cookie Rojas stroked four of the Phillies' 11 hits off winner Denny Lemaster, who needed relief help from John Buzhardt in the eighth.

Arnie Doesn't Make Cut; Nicklaus One Behind

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Gary Player went for the pin with monotonous regularity. Don January went to his wedge with remarkable results. Arnold Palmer went home to Latrobe, Pa.

Player and January tamed tough Augusta National and soared into the second-round lead of the 1968 Masters Golf tournament, but the capricious course snapped back at the old master, Palmer, and sent him reeling home, a victim of the cut.

The four-time winner of this tournament, the game's all-time leading money winner, the most magnetic personality in the sport staggered, stumbled and struggled to a fantastic 79, seven over par for the 6,980-yard layout. That went with a 72 for 151, two strokes above the cut.

"It's the worst round I've ever had here," Palmer said. "I don't know where I was, but I wasn't on the course. I must have been some place else."

Player, the little South African who has won all the world's major titles, had a second round 77 for 139 Friday and a share of the top spot with January, the PGA champ. January had a 68.

But the best round of the day was Frank Beard's. He reeled off seven birdies without a bogey for a 65, just one stroke off the record, for 140 and a share of third place with Bob Goalby and Jack Nicklaus. Goalby had a 70, Nicklaus a 71.

Tommy Aaron, with a 72, was alone at 141.

The other first-round leaders had their troubles. Billy Casper, whose 68 led after 18 holes, took a 75 for 143.

British Open champ Roberto De Vicenzo of Argentina, England's Tony Jacklin and Australian Bruce Devlin, all with first round 69s, each had a 73 for 142. They are tied at that figure with Ray Floyd and Bert Yancey, each with a 71.

Palmer, who had never before missed the cut here, had four bogeys, a double bogey and a triple bogey 8, the latter on the 15th where he put two shots in the water.

He also was in the water on 12 for a double bogey, three putted two greens, took three to get down from the fringe on another and on yet another was in a trap and needed two putts.

"Don't ask me what I did," he said. "I hit so many shots I don't remember them all."

SOUTH AFRICAN, Gary Player lets out a happy whoop on the 18th green after sinking a birdie putt to put him in a two-way tie for the lead in the Masters Tournament at Augusta, Ga. Player fired a five-under-par 67 and holds a 36-hole total of 139. (UPI Telephoto)

Tribe, Bosox Open 2-Game Series Today

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Indians and Boston Red Sox open a two-game series here today and the Red Sox are hoping for the same kind of success they had in Cleveland last season.

The Red Sox beat the Indians in 13 of 18 games in winning the 1967 American League pennant and their record at Cleveland Stadium was 8-1.

The mound opponents for the series opener will be Steve Hargan, the Tribe's winningest pitcher last year with 14 victories, and Gary Waslewski, Boston's best pitcher during spring exhibition games.

Both are right-handers and each will be making his first start of the season. Waslewski shut out the opposition in the last 18 innings he pitched in the Grapefruit League.

Jerry Stephenson will start for the Red Sox in the Sunday afternoon game. He will be opposed by Sonny Siebert, who pitched a two-hitter in shutting out the Chicago White Sox, 9-0, in the season opener Wednesday in Chicago.

Brandys Play And Shushan In Rematch

The Easter Parade Purse at Waterford Park tonight has attracted the two top horses of the meeting.

Shushan, the front running speedster who upset Brandys Play after he had won 11 races in a row — and Brandys Play, coming back to face his conqueror after a week's rest. Cecil Rogers, trainer of Brandys Play, also named Slipton Fell to run as an entry with Brandys Play. Slipton Fell holds the record for a mile at Waterford Park.

"Brandys Play met with some bad racing luck when beaten by Shushan, "Rogers said as he watched his pair go around the Waterford oval in a final tuneup for what many call the "rematch." Herb Jolley, who handles Shushan, had no comment except to say that he felt the records speak for him. At this time the records are in Jolley's favor. His Shushan met Brandys Play once and he beat him in a rather handy manner by 2 lengths.

The Easter Parade is six furlongs, the same distance as last Saturday's race in which Brandys Play met his only defeat over the Waterford oval. He had won 11 in a row until he finished second to Shushan. Ten of the victories were in 1967 and one this year. Had Brandys Play won his 12th last Saturday he would have been seeking No. 13 on the 13th of the month.

'Don't Think It's Age,' Palmer Says At Masters

By RON SPEER
Associated Press Sports Writer

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Is Arnold Palmer past his prime at the age of 38?

Definitely not, says the famed golfer.

"I don't feel old at all," added Palmer Friday after he failed to survive the cut at the halfway mark in the Masters, his favorite tournament.

"I don't know what's wrong with me," Palmer said, "but I don't think it's age.

"I sure hope age is not one of my problems, I've got enough others right now," said the four-time Masters champion who soared to a 79 in the second round, his worst showing ever at the Augusta National.

"Jack Nicklaus missed the cut last year at the Masters—and he's 10 years younger than I am," Palmer said.

Palmer's disaster-marked 79—which included a double-bogey 5 and a triple-bogey 8—left him with a 36-hole total of 151, two strokes over the cutoff mark.

"I don't know what was the matter, but I knew things weren't right," Palmer said of his play. "I couldn't make myself do the things I knew I had to do.

"I sure hope things get better," he said. "I can't stand much more of this."

Palmer hasn't won any of the big prestige tournaments since he captured his fourth Masters championship in 1964.

The millionaire, who heads a massive business organization which peddles such things as laundries, clothes, golf clubs and golf courses, missed the cut at the Citrus Open in Orlando, Fla., last month.

However, he won the Bob Hope Desert Classic last winter, and is the all-time leading money winner in golf.

Blues Need Victory To End Series

By The Associated Press

The ceiling is back in place at the Philadelphia Spectrum after a losing battle recently with a gusty wind, but the St. Louis Blues hope to raise the roof tonight by clinching their National Hockey League Stanley Cup semifinal series with the Flyers.

The Blues lead Philadelphia's West Division winners three games to one in their best-of-7 set. A victory tonight would enable the third-place Blues to sit back and await the winner of the Los Angeles-Minnesota series, which resumes in Los Angeles tonight with the teams knotted at two games apiece.

The New York Rangers were in Chicago to meet the resurgent Black Hawks today in a nationally televised game. The Rangers hold a 2-1 lead in the East Division semifinal following Chicago's 7-4 triumph Thursday night.

The Montreal Canadiens, regular season winners in the East, won their semifinal series Thursday by edging Boston 3-2 for a four-game sweep.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers recalled outfielder Cleo James from their Spokane affiliate Friday to replace injured Al Ferrara.

Atlanta Gets Long Ball From Unexpected Source

By MIKE BARRON
Associated Press Sports Writer

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The Atlanta Braves' big weapon, the home run, came from some unexpected sources Friday night, but it still brought the team's first victory in a home opener since the move from Milwaukee in 1966.

The homers, which produced a 4-3 victory over Cincinnati, came from catcher Bob Tillman, who had only three last year; shortstop Sonny Jackson, who didn't hit any last season and never had hit one over the fence, and pitcher Phil Niekro, who never had even hit one in the majors.

Tillman, who hit the winning homer, a two-run shot in the seventh, hadn't been scheduled to play. He got into the game in the third inning after Joe Torre suffered a split fingernail on his right hand from a foul tip off the bat of Pete Rose. Trainer Harvey Stone said the injury didn't appear to be serious.

Tillman struck out with the bases loaded in the fifth inning to quell a budding rally. But with Hank Aaron on first with a single in the seventh, the former New York Yankee smashed a fast ball 407 feet over the center field fence.

He hit three homers last year with the Yankees.

Niekro's homer, which led off the seventh, was a 340-foot shot barely far down the left field line.

Jackson, acquired by the Braves from Houston in a trade before this season, had hit only three major league homers, all year before last.

His 377-foot homer over the right field fence came in the third inning, erasing a 1-0 lead the Reds had taken on Tony Perez' homer in the second, his second of the year.

Lakers Seek 4th Straight Over Frisco

By The Associated Press

The San Francisco Warriors are down to their last chance in their National Basketball Association Western Division playoff series with the Los Angeles Lakers.

The teams play tonight in Oakland with the Lakers leading the best-of-7 series, 3-0.

In the NBA's Eastern Division playoff, the Philadelphia 76ers and Boston Celtics meet in their fourth game in Boston Sunday, with the 76ers leading 2-1.

In the American Basketball Association, Minnesota and Pittsburgh meet on the Muskies home court tonight, with the Pipers leading the best-of-7 Eastern Division set two games to one. The fifth game in the series will be played Sunday.

And in the Western Division, Dallas meets New Orleans today. New Orleans leads the series 3-1.

In tonight's ABA game, Pittsburgh can just about wrap up the series with a victory because two of the final three games—if needed—will be played on the Pipers' home floor.

Pirate Pitching, So Far, So Good

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Things might be looking up for the Pittsburgh Pirates pitching staff.

In two games so far this season, Buc hurlers have looked good. It was a different story last year.

Although the Pirates dropped the opener to Houston, Jim Bunning pitched well enough to win most games.

That wasn't surprising since Bunning had strong credentials when he joined the Pirates after pitching for Philadelphia.

In the second game, a 3-1 victory over the San Francisco Giants, Pirate pitchers came on strong again.

Starter Bob Veale worked 12 strong innings and rookie Bob Moose looked like a veteran in the one inning he worked in the 15-inning game.

Many of the Giants expected Veale to crack in the long, close game.

"I've never seen Veale better," said Giant Willie Mays. "There are few pitchers who could have stayed even with Mike McCormick the way he was pitching. Veale did it."

Moose, 20-year-old from Export, Pa., had the poise of a veteran in the tight game.

When Donn Clendenon messed up a game—ending throw in the 15th inning, Moose had to pitch to Jim Davenport, and some thought the youngster might lose control.

Moose nailed Davenport on an easy fly to center field.

"Why should Clendenon's error have bothered me?" asked Moose with youthful innocence.

"It was just one of those things. I just had to pitch to one more man."

Pirate manager Larry Shepard said of Moose:

"The kid acted like he has been pitching in the big leagues all his life. He looks like a real find. Nothing bothers the boy."

Shepard is using Moose as a reliever in the early part of the season. He indicated he may move him into the starting rotation in the near future.

The Pirates were idle Friday. They play the Giants today with Al McBean opposing the Giants' Gaylord Perry.

Ralph Boston Was Upset, Will Try For Olympics

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP) — Ralph Boston says he was upset over the assassination of Martin Luther King Jr. last week when he said he would not try out for the U.S. Olympic Track and Field team.

"I was not myself. But unless you are a Negro you cannot imagine what Dr. King's death meant," the stellar long jumper told an audience of athletes recently in announcing he had changed his mind and would try out for the team.

"I was ignoring what President Johnson said the night of the assassination. He asked the nation to remain calm. I did not and it was my fault.

"You know all those things that Stokely Carmichael and Rap Brown have said? They go through your mind, even if you don't believe them. When something like this happens, when you're thinking irrationally, then suddenly they seem right."

Boston who shares the world long jump record, said he would try to make the U.S. team and would dedicate his efforts at the Olympics to King's memory. He said he will retire afterward.

'Is There A Doctor In The House' For 76ers?

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia 76ers could be billed as the best touring troupe in basketball. All they need is a doctor to complete the cast.

Going into the fourth game Sunday of their National Basketball Association playoff series with the Boston Celtics, the 76ers are hurting from head to toe.

So what's new? Injuries have plagued the defending NBA champions since the opening of the season.

Harvey Pollack, the 76ers' statistician, ticked off some of the injuries:

—Wilt Chamberlain, partial tear of the calf muscle in his right leg, a strain in his right thigh and an injured right toe.

—Wally Jones, injured knee cartilage.

—Luke Jackson pulled hamstring muscle.

—Hal Greer, bursitis in his right knee.

—Billy Cunningham, broken right wrist.

The 76ers have nine men in uniform for the best-of-seven playoffs, which they lead, two games to one. But whether they'll have anybody left for the finals against the Western Division winner is anybody's guess.

Eight Derby Eligibles In Gotham Run

NEW YORK (AP) — Eight Kentucky Derby eligibles were set to take another Derby test today, the Gotham Stakes, while six others, led by What A Pleasure, were out to give them bad grades.

What A Pleasure, owned by Wheatley Stable, was assigned 122 pounds, four less than Derby nominees Wise Exchange and Bugged.

Wise Exchange, owned by Isidor Bieber, rated the early favorite's role, with the entry of What A Pleasure and Irish Chief, also ineligible for the Derby, the second favorite.

The gross purse for the mile race if all 14 run would be $61,500. Making it the richest Gotham. ever. Post time was about 4 :45 p.m., EST.

Other Derby candidates in the field and their weights were Elmedorf's Verbatim, 118, and Hobeau Farm's Conceited, Edwin Weisl's Wellpoised, Jack Amiel's Mr. Hasty, Edith Marienhoff's Tough Sledding and Triad Stable's That's Mine, 114 each.

Joining What A Pleasure and Irish Chief in an effort to shake Derby hopes were Hollylor's Eastern Affair, 118 and Cambridge Stable's Hand To Hand, Jacques Wimpfheimer's Shy Native and Mrs. Wallace Gilroy's Boyinahurry.

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union has again blasted the readmittance of South Africa into the Olympics and has indicated it would withdraw from the 1968 Games if the decision were not reversed.

The latest Russian outburst came Friday and was aimed at the International Olympic Committee and its president, Avery Brundage of Chicago. It was the IOC's decision to readmit South Africa to the Games, which will be held in Mexico City, Oct. 12-27.

The Russians feel South Africa should be banned from the Games because of its racial policies.

The DOCTOR Says

By Dr. W. G. Brandstadt

Nerve Inflammation Seen Cause of Palsy

The most frequent type of paralysis of the facial nerve is Bell's palsy. It affects only one side of the face and is caused by an inflammation of the nerve. This in turn may be caused by exposure to cold, a tumor or an infection, usually with a virus. Recent reports indicate that it is sometimes caused by airplane travel in persons with a blockage of the Eustachian tube leading from the middle ear to the throat. This type of Bell's palsy always clears up spontaneously. In older persons the disease may be associated with diabetes or hardening of the arteries.

THE ONSET is usually sudden and the victim is unable to close his eyelids completely or wrinkle his brow on the affected side or to whistle. It is important to remember that Bell's palsy is not the result of a stroke—a frequent source of worry. Patients with stroke involving the facial muscles can't whistle but they can rwinkle their brows and close their eyelids.

—:—

ABOUT 75 per cent of all cases recover without treatment within a few weeks. Unfortunately, there is no easy way to identify the 25 per cent who will need treatment. When tests of function made three days after the onset show that the facial paralysis is incomplete, recovery is the rule. But it is also true that 50 per cent of those whose paralysis is complete will recover as well. Tests of the electrical conduction through the affected nerve early in the course of the disease help to determine which victims need treatment.

—:—

SOME DOCTORS have had good results with the anti-inflammatory drug, ACTH, started on the first day of the disease. Others prefer blocking the sympathetic nerves in the neck on the affected side. While waiting for return of function in the facial nerve heat, massage and electrical stimulation are beneficial.

—:—

ANOTHER treatment that has given excellent results in selected cases is a surgical widening of the bony channel through which the inflamed nerve passes. This relieves pressure on the nerve which, if allowed to continue, leads to permanent degeneration of the nerve. Full recovery following this operation occurs in two to eight weeks.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M. D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Hearing Planned In Traffic Case

A Municipal Court hearing is scheduled Monday for Edward J. Emler, 33, of 7th Ave., LaCroft, who pleaded not guilty before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff Friday on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Emler was cited by police Thursday afternoon after a collision on Dresden Ave. at W. 7th St. that involved his car and an auto operated by Arthur L. White, 62, of Echo Dr., Wellsville.

A hearing also is set tentatively Monday morning for Raymond D. Humphreys, 54, of 1650 Cleveland Ave., cited on a reckless driving charge after his auto veered off Harvey Ave. Thursday night, striking a utility pole and a metering station owned by the Ohio Valley Gas Co.

Meanwhile, Charles Weyand, 24, of Dodge St. was fined $25 and costs Friday on a charge of failure to halt in the assured clear distance. Police said his auto hit the rear of another Thursday afternoon on St. Clair Ave. at E. 9th St.

IN loving memory of our Uncle, J. T. WATKIN, JR. who passed away April 14, 1967:
Sad and sudden was the call, of one so dear and loved by all. His loving heart had ceased to beat, Before we knew it, he was gone, a bitter grief, a shock severe, to part with one we loved so dear. God loved him, too, and thought it best, so He took him home to eternal rest. But only those who loved him best can tell the heartache of not saying farewell.
Sadly missed by niece and husband, Janet and Jimmy Shaw.

In loving memory of our son and brother, Charles Dean Tice. Feb. 1, 1935 to April 14, 1961. Father, Mother, Sister and Brothers.

3 CARDS OF THANKS

WE little think as we go from day to day, how quickly sorrow can strike at the heart, but when it did, the sympathy and helpfulness of friends were deeply comforting in the loss of our beloved father, Robert J. Bennett Sr. We are grateful to everyone who has given and offered their services to us.

Junior Editors Quiz on TIME ZONES

QUESTION: Why do the time zones follow a zigzag pattern?

ANSWER: In (1), we look down on the earth, which turns in the direction of the arrows. The sun shines at right. The square marked "o" to the left of the sun shows the zero meridian, a north-south line running through Greenwich, England, from which east-west distances are measured. In this position of the earth, it is noon at Greenwich. Just opposite is the 180th meridian, which runs through the middle of the Pacific. This is the International Date Line and here it's midnight on Saturday. But the instant the Date Line moves past with the earth's rotation, a new day, Sunday, begins (1), (2).

As different parts of the earth pass the midnight line, it becomes Sunday there too, so the Date Line carries Sunday right around the earth (3), (4). The Date Line has zigzags in it by arrangement between different countries. If it had been straight at the top, for example, a part of Siberia would have been in a different day from the rest of Siberia. Further south, the line is angled so groups of islands can be in the same day together. Can you figure how it would be possible to sail from Sunday back into Saturday?

Karl Krug of Nicktown, Pa., wins a prize for this question. You can win $10 cash plus AP's World Yearbook if your question, mailed to Junior Editors on a postcard in care of The Review, is selected for a prize.

Tobacco Firm Sued In Lung Cancer Death

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Brown & Williamson Tobacco Corp. of Louisville, Ky., has been sued for $3,014,084 by a Clevelane woman who claims her husband died of lung cancer by cigarettes manufactured by the company.

Mrs. Alex Vardy contends in her suit filed in common pleas court Friday that her husband smoked on the average two to three packages of the cigarettes a day for 17 years before he died April 5, 1967, at the age of 59. He was a building contractor.

Mrs. Vardy's suit accused the defendant company of negligence in failing "to warn smokers of the potential ill effects" of the cigarettes.

Four Cyclists Fined For No Helmet, Visor

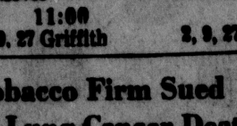

LISBON — Four youths learned the hard way this week that the law says motorcycle operators and passengers must wear a helmet and visor to protect the head and eyes.

Fined at juvenile traffic hearings in the Courthouse for violating this law were Robert E. Schreffler, 17, Lisbon RD 4, $10; Marilyn Kay Baker, 17, Columbiana, $5, and William P. Straight, 17, of 928 Denver St., and Glenn G. Beagle, 17, of 165 Fawcett St., both of East Liverpool, $5 each.

The driver's license of John S. Lora, 16, of Garfield Rd., Salem RD 1, was suspended for 20 days for speeding.

John A. Anderson, 17, Alliance RD 5, paid a $10 fine for driving an unsafe vehicle.

Violence Strikes Glasgow, Youth Fatally Stabbed

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP) — A wave of violence—with no apparent motive—lashed Scotland's biggest city throughout the night.

An 18-year-old youth was stabbed to death. More than 20 injured lay in crowded hospitals today, suffering stab wounds bottle cuts, razor slashes, kickings and beatings.

Youths, alone or in pairs, were attacked by gangs roaming the streets as crowds made their way home from dance halls, theaters and pubs. Several were knifed when they refused demands for money. Others were beaten for no reason.

A city police officer said: "We don't know why. There is no apparent cause. It just happened."

Glasgow — third largest city in Britain, with a population of more than a million—has long had a reputation for gang warfare and sudden violence, stemming from the rough, tough days of the 1930s with their mass unemployment.

Safety Chief Ouster Proposed In Petition

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Reports were being circulated today that nearly half of the city's police force have signed a petition calling for the removal of Pittsburgh safety director David Craig.

WIIC-TV said Friday night the petition indicates the signers are disturbed over Craig's handling of recent racial disorders.

The local television station said the signers appear irked over restraints placed on police and because some Negroes were given a measure of authority in dealing with the situation after the worst was over.

The station said 650 police have signed the petition. The Pittsburgh Post - Gazette estimated the number as high as 1,200. The city has 1,579 policemen.

In City Council Monday

Action Planned To Create New Post Of Coordinator

Council is scheduled to act Monday night on an ordinance creating the new post of planning and project coordinator—an appointee who will have the task of implementing the city's "master plan" for growth and development and obtaining federal, state and county aid for local projects.

An appropriation for the new employe's salary and expenses, regarded as a major stumbling block, was provided in legislation approved March 29. Council set up $6,000 for the salary for the balance of 1968, along with $3,000 for expenses.

The legislation provides the coordinator will be appointed by Council. It also stipulates that he need not be a resident of East Liverpool at the time of the appointment, but must establish a home here within six months.

THE DUTIES will include: Completion of all applications for federal, state and county grant - in - aid projects; serving as the city's liaison officer to all federal, state and county administrative agencies, and serving as adviser to the Planning Commission and other agencies and commissions on programs and projects growing out of the "master plan."

The coordinator will be required to submit monthly and annual reports to Council, the mayor and the safety - service director. He also will act as supervisor of the housing and zoning inspection department.

At least three other pieces of new legislation are scheduled for presentation Monday.

Council will consider a so-called consent ordinance for an Ohio Highway Department project for blacktop resurfacing on a 792-foot section of the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd.," helping to correct faults in the present pavement blamed on surface water and seepage from old mines. The legislation stipulates the new pavement will be about seven inches thick.

Overall cost of the work has been estimated at $5,000. The city will contribute $2,000 and the state will furnish the balance. Council gave informal approval to the project a few weeks ago after hearing an explanation from Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey.

—:—

ANOTHER proposed ordinance would alter zoning regulations to eliminate a requirement for provision for off-street parking space when a new building is erected in the central business district. The present ordinance sets up requirements for the building owner to provide off - street parking space on his lot, based on the type of business which will occupy it, the number of employes, and so forth.

The Planning Commission recommended that Council eliminate the requirement for the off-street spaces, pointing out it would work a hardship on those contemplating new construction.

Council also will consider an ordinance setting up a schedule of fees for building permits and subsequent inspections.

The basic permit application fee would be $2 for residential construction and $5 for any commercial or industrial project. In addition, the inspection fee for new construction would be based on a sliding scale ranging upward from $2. The charge for a building in the price range from $1,000 to $50,000, for instance, would be $5 plus $2 per $1,000 of estimated cost.

Council enacted a fee schedule a few months ago, but later decided that the charges it set were too high for East Liverpool conditions. To kill the legislation, Council agreed with Mayor George E. Willshaw that he would veto the legislation and a new fee schedule would be drafted.

Home Economics Course Set For Southern Local

A home economics vocational program has been approved by the state of Ohio for Southern Local High School.

The program will begin next fall, Supt. Thomas Leek announced during Thursday night's meeting of the Board of Education.

At the same time, Leek said there will be no kindergarten during the 1968-69 term. He said the decision resulted from a survey which indicated lack of interest and because of transportation problems.

In other business, Robert Beatty, East Liverpool architect, discussed the feasibility of adding classrooms and was instructed by the board to prepare estimates on the type of rooms needed and the cost. Beatty is to report at the next board meeting.

The board approved contract renewals and accepted the resignation of Edward Loudon, mathematics teacher.

Relative to school classroom equipment, the board instructed the superintendent to obtain bids for the purchase of 10 typewriters and furniture for the junior high school. Also, a contract for typewriter service and maintenance was granted to the Fithian Typewriter Service Co. of Salem.

The board passed a resolution to request a transportation survey by the state and approved a course of study for the 1968-69 school year.

The purchase of science equipment with $2,400 from Title III funds also was approved.

Authorization was given for the purchase of a file cabinet for the office and a lawn mower for the Highlandtown Elementary School.

A motion to employ another full-time custodian at the Salineville school failed.

The next meeting will be May 9 at 8 p.m. at the Franklin Elementary school in Summitville.

Officers Check Entry Of School; Iron Recovered

Police investigated a burglary discovered Friday morning at East Junior High School.

It was not determined immediately if there was any loss in the entry, which was reported by Roy Martin, chief custodian. Officers found a broken pane of glass 24-by-32 in the boiler room door and another broken pane 14-by-36 inches in a ground level window in a shower room.

Entry could have been gained through either opening, officers said. A small window also was broken in an interior kitchen door. The entry was timed between 4 p. m. Thursday and 9:30 a. m.. Friday.

Meanwhile, 45 to 50 pieces of stainless and nickel pig iron stolen the night of Feb. 28-29 from the S. H. Bell Co.'s riverfront dock in Little England were recovered in a hiding place on State St. near the Ralston's Crossing underpass, police said.

A resident spotted the metal covered by the door of an old refrigerator and advised police, believing the iron had been stolen. Patrolman Jerry F. Adkins said it was traced to the theft at the Bell Co.'s dock.

Junior Editors Quiz on TIME ZONES

QUESTION: Why do the time zones follow a zigzag pattern?

ANSWER: In (1), we look down on the earth, which turns in the direction of the arrows. The sun shines at right. The square marked "o" to the left of the sun shows the zero meridian, a north-south line running through Greenwich, England, from which east-west distances are measured. In this position of the earth, it is noon at Greenwich. Just opposite is the 180th meridian, which runs through the middle of the Pacific. This is the International Date Line and here it's midnight on Saturday. But the instant the Date Line moves past with the earth's rotation, a new day, Sunday, begins (1), (2).

As different parts of the earth pass the midnight line, it becomes Sunday there too, so the Date Line carries Sunday right around the earth (3), (4). The Date Line has zigzags in it by arrangement between different countries. If it had been straight at the top, for example, a part of Siberia would have been in a different day from the rest of Siberia. Further south, the line is angled so groups of islands can be in the same day together. Can you figure how it would be possible to sail from Sunday back into Saturday?

In City Council Monday

Action Planned To Create New Post Of Coordinator

Council is scheduled to act Monday night on an ordinance creating the new post of planning and project coordinator—an appointee who will have the task of implementing the city's "master plan" for growth and development and obtaining federal, state and county aid for local projects.

An appropriation for the new employe's salary and expenses, regarded as a major stumbling block, was provided in legislation approved March 29. Council set up $6,000 for the salary for the balance of 1968, along with $3,000 for expenses.

The legislation provides the coordinator will be appointed by Council. It also stipulates that he need not be a resident of East Liverpool at the time of the appointment, but must establish a home here within six months.

THE DUTIES will include: Completion of all applications for federal, state and county grant - in - aid projects; serving as the city's liaison officer to all federal, state and county administrative agencies, and serving as adviser to the Planning Commission and other agencies and commissions on programs and projects growing out of the "master plan."

The coordinator will be required to submit monthly and annual reports to Council, the mayor and the safety - service director. He also will act as supervisor of the housing and zoning inspection department.

At least three other pieces of new legislation are scheduled for presentation Monday.

Council will consider a so-called consent ordinance for an Ohio Highway Department project for blacktop resurfacing on a 792–foot section of the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd.," helping to correct faults in the present pavement blamed on surface water and seepage from old mines. The legislation stipulates the new pavement will be about seven inches thick.

Overall cost of the work has been estimated at $5,000. The city will contribute $2,000 and the state will furnish the balance. Council gave informal approval to the project a few weeks ago after hearing an explanation from Safety - Service Director Robert E. Volrey.

ANOTHER proposed ordinance would alter zoning regulations to eliminate a requirement for provision for off-street parking space when a new building is erected in the central business district. The present ordinance sets up requirements for the building owner to provide off - street parking space on his lot, based on the type of business which will occupy it, the number of employes, and so forth.

The Planning Commission recommended that Council eliminate the requirement for the off-street spaces, pointing out it would work a hardship on those contemplating new construction.

Council also will consider an ordinance setting up a schedule of fees for building permits and subsequent inspections.

The basic permit application fee would be $2 for residential construction and $5 for any commercial or industrial project. In addition, the inspection fee for new construction would be based on a sliding scale ranging upward from $2. The charge for a building in the price range from $1,000 to $50,000, for instance, would be $5 plus $2 per $1,000 of estimated cost.

Council enacted a fee schedule a few months ago, but later decided that the charges it set were too high for East Liverpool conditions. To kill the legislation, Council agreed with Mayor George E. Willshaw that he would veto the legislation and a new fee schedule would be drafted.

Officers Check Entry Of School; Iron Recovered

Police investigated a burglary discovered Friday morning at East Junior High School.

It was not determined immediately if there was any loss in the entry, which was reported by Roy Martin, chief custodian. Officers found a broken pane of glass 24-by-32 in the boiler room door and another broken pane 14-by-36 inches in a ground level window in a shower room.

Entry could have been gained through either opening, officers said. A small window also was broken in an interior kitchen door. The entry was timed between 4 p. m. Thursday and 9:30 a. m.. Friday.

Meanwhile, 45 to 50 pieces of stainless and nickel pig iron stolen the night of Feb. 28-29 from the S. H. Bell Co.'s riverfront dock in Little England were recovered in a hiding place on State St. near the Ralston's Crossing underpass, police said.

A resident spotted the metal covered by the door of an old refrigerator and advised police, believing the iron had been stolen. Patrolman Jerry F. Adkins said it was traced to the theft at the Bell Co.'s dock.

Portugal's Tagus River bridge is the fifth longest in the world, exceeded only by four suspension bridges in the United States.

The Flying Tuseks from West Point will perform and a skating act also will be featured.

Mrs. Patsy Havice and Mrs. Grace Diddle are co - chairmen of the event. Mrs. Alice Diddle will be in charge of tickets.

Violence Strikes Glasgow, Youth Fatally Stabbed

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP) — A wave of violence—with no apparent motive—lashed Scotland's biggest city throughout the night.

An 18-year-old youth was stabbed to death. More than 20 injured lay in crowded hospitals today, suffering stab wounds bottle cuts, razor slashes, kickings and beatings.

Youths, alone or in pairs, were attacked by gangs roaming the streets as crowds made their way home from dance halls, theaters and pubs. Several were knifed when they refused demands for money. Others were beaten for no reason.

A city police officer said: "We don't know why. There is no apparent cause. It just happened."

Glasgow — third largest city in Britain, with a population of more than a million—has long had a reputation for gang warfare and sudden violence, stemming from the rough, tough days of the 1930s with their mass unemployment.

Safety Chief Ouster Proposed In Petition

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Reports were being circulated today that nearly half of the city's police force have signed a petition calling for the removal of Pittsburgh safety director David Craig.

WIIC-TV said Friday night the petition indicates the signers are disturbed over Craig's handling of recent racial disorders.

The local television station said the signers appear irked over restraints placed on police and because some Negroes were given a measure of authority in dealing with the situation after the worst was over.

The station said 650 police have signed the petition. The Pittsburgh Post - Gazette estimated the number as high as 1,200. The city has 1,579 policemen.

Home Economics Course Set For Southern Local

A home economics vocational program has been approved by the state of Ohio for Southern Local High School.

The program will begin next fall, Supt. Thomas Leek announced during Thursday night's meeting of the Board of Education.

At the same time, Leek said there will be no kindergarten during the 1968-69 term. He said the decision resulted from a survey which indicated lack of interest and because of transportation problems.

In other business, Robert Beatty, East Liverpool architect, discussed the feasibility of adding classrooms and was instructed by the board to prepare estimates on the type of rooms needed and the cost. Beatty is to report at the next board meeting.

The board approved contract renewals and accepted the resignation of Edward Loudon, mathematics teacher.

Relative to school classroom equipment, the board instructed the superintendent to obtain bids for the purchase of 10 typewriters and furniture for the junior high school. Also, a contract for typewriter service and maintenance was granted to the Fithian Typewriter Service Co. of Salem.

The board passed a resolution to request a transportation survey by the state and approved a course of study for the 1968-69 school year.

The purchase of science equipment with $2,400 from Title III funds also was approved.

Authorization was given for the purchase of a file cabinet for the office and a lawn mower for the Highlandtown Elementary School.

A motion to employ another full-time custodian at the Salineville school failed.

The next meeting will be May 9 at 8 p.m. at the Franklin Elementary school in Summitville.

Tobacco Firm Sued In Lung Cancer Death

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Brown & Williamson Tobacco Corp. of Louisville, Ky., has been sued for $3,014,084 by a Clevelane woman who claims her husband died of lung cancer by cigarettes manufactured by the company.

Mrs. Alex Vardy contends in her suit filed in common pleas court Friday that her husband smoked on the average two to three packages of the cigarettes a day for 17 years before he died April 5, 1967, at the age of 59. He was a building contractor.

Mrs. Vardy's suit accused the defendant company of negligence in failing "to warn smokers of the potential ill effects" of the cigarettes.
